HARDY PILOTS READY TO COMB ICY WASTES; MATTERN FIRST AWAY

Veteran Texas Flyer Makes Flight and Lands at Barrow—Sir Hubert Wilkins at Fort Smith—Randall Flits Along Arctic Coast in Search Of the Missing Russian Flyers

BARROW, Alaska, Aug. 20 (AP).—In a huge flying boat, Sir Hubert Wilkins, British explorer, and five flyers landed at Fort Smith, N.W.T., today, en route to establish a rescue base near the Alaska-Canada border, preparatory to entering the hunt for six lost Russian trans-polar flyers.

The Russian flyer Zadkoff reached Point Barrow last night, joining Bob Randall, Canadian flyer, who had been shuttling along the Arctic Coast for three days.

Eager to repay his own rescue four years ago, Jimmy Mattern, famed United States pilot, soared out of Fairbanks toward the Arctic Coast to take up the search.

Russian sea and aircraft joined the far-flung hunt almost as Mattern got away after having been weather-bound at Fairbanks for days. The Soviet ice-breaker Krassin, said to be carrying planes, stood somewhere off Point Barrow.

AIRMEN OFF ON LONG HOP

Racing From France to Damascus and Back—Thirteen Planes Start

ISTRES, France, Aug. 20 (AP).—Thirteen of Europe's fastest planes roared away from here, tonight, in a race to Damascus and back, for prizes totaling 3,000,000 francs (about $112,000).

Bruno Mussolini, aviator-son of the Italian Premier, was co-pilot in one of the eight Italian entries in the 3,600-mile race. The Italians, with more planes in the race than all other nationalities combined, were favored to win most of the prize money.

LONE BRITISH PILOT

Four French planes led the pack, followed by a lone British contestant and the eight Italian ships.

With fair weather reported all along the route, the winner was expected to cross the finish line at Le Bourget Field, Paris, in about 21 hours, some time Saturday afternoon.

The round trip race to Syria was arranged as a substitute for the trans-Atlantic contest the French Government sponsored to commemorate the tenth anniversary of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's flight from New York to Paris. United States objections forced cancellation of that race.

PLEDGES ITALY TO PEACE PACT

Mussolini Declares Lasting Rapprochement With Great Britain Is Possible

PALERMO, Sicily, Aug. 20 (AP).—Premier Mussolini, addressing a world-wide audience, today pledged Italy to a "concrete policy of peace" and declared "I believe we can arrive at a lasting rapprochement" between Great Britain and Italy.

More than 200,000 Sicilians crowded to hear the Premier, while in every principal city in Italy hundreds of thousands marched in formation to line up before loudspeakers in central squares. The speech was broadcast internationally.

MEDITERRANEAN POLICY

His only warlike note—"We will not tolerate bolshevism or anything like it in the Mediterranean"—was an afterthought, observers stated, inserted when the crowd yelled at him to comment on the Spanish civil war situation.

"Italy," he shouted, "is disposed to give its collaboration on all problems touching the political life of Europe." He summarized Italian policy with an "appeal to peace to all countries which are touched by the Mediterranean where three continents have brought their civilization."

LESSENS IRRITATION

LONDON, Aug. 20 (CP-Havas).—Premier Mussolini's appeal for international co-operation toward peace at Palermo tonight was seen in unofficial circles here as a probable spur to forthcoming Anglo-Italian conversations.

Mussolini's conciliatory tone was considered a satisfying element prefacing these conversations and particular attention was paid to the appeal for co-operation among Mediterranean powers.

Mussolini's proposals, it was held, came at a time to lessen a feeling of irritation which the recent Mediterranean incidents have provoked in Great Britain. (Spain has charged Italian warcraft are responsible for recent attacks on Mediterranean shipping. Italy denies the charge.)

It is possible the Earl of Perth, formerly Sir Eric Drummond, British Ambassador to Rome, will confer with Prime Minister Chamberlain before he returns to his post in Italy.

SIR ERIC DRUMMOND NOW EARL OF PERTH

LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP). — Sir Eric Drummond, British ambassador to Italy and the first secretary-general to the League of Nations, tonight succeeded to the Earldom of Perth.

The 300-year-old title passed to Sir Eric, as the sixteenth earl on the death of his half-brother, William Huntly Drummond, fifteenth earl, at Rouen, France. The latter was sixty-six.

HATTERS' STRIKE BROUGHT TO END

Ontario Plant to Resume Operations Monday After Nine Weeks Closed

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Aug. 20 (AP).—The nine-week-old strike of 225 employees of the John B. Stetson Company (Canada), Ltd., ended today, when an agreement was signed by the company and its strikers.

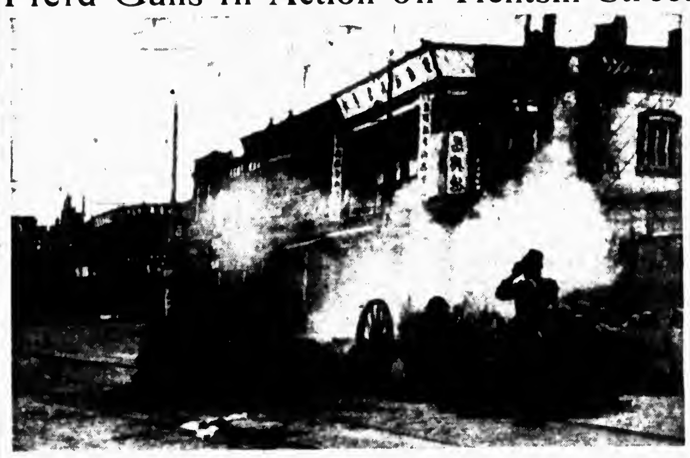

Recognition of the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers' International Union, which caused the strike June 26, is not provided in the agreement which will remain in effect until September, 1938.

Operations at the plant will resume Monday.

EARTHQUAKES ALTER MANILA FROM HAVEN INTO CITY OF TERROR

Worst Shocks for Forty Years Strew Streets With Debris of Masonry and Glass, With All City Lights Extinguished When First Tremor Of High Intensity Is Experienced

MANILA, Aug. 20 (AP). — Twin earthquakes — Manila's worst in forty years—converted this haven of safety into a darkened city of terror tonight for refugees from embattled Shanghai.

City lights, snuffed out by the first shock, were restored to reveal streets strewn with broken masonry and glass. Hospitals treated many injured, but no deaths were reported.

The first and most devastating quake came at 7.59 p.m. (6.59 a.m. M.S.T.). Broken windows cascaded down the fronts of buildings and into the streets.

FLEE IN TERROR

Residents fled in terror from their homes. Fires broke out in many places, but few proved serious.

"Is this another war?" cried one girl from among a screaming group of women refugees who five days previously ran a gauntlet of bullets to escape Shanghai.

The first wave of terror was just beginning to subside when the second quake shook the city at 8.24 p.m.

Seismologists said the force of the first tremor was of an intensity

Polish Disorders Lead to Killing And Incendiarism

WARSAW, Poland, Aug. 20 (AP).—The peasants' strike became more serious in Galicia today with the killing of two more farmers and the burning of farm houses. Police shot the two farmers to death in disorders at Bochnia, near Krakow. Yesterday police fired volleys into a rioting mob at Dymow, killing four striking peasants. Strikers burned six farm houses at Limanova when the owners refused to join the strike.

Powers Try To Adjust Relations

LISBON, Aug. 20 (AP).—Portuguese newspapers and prominent citizens spoke out today in support of their Government's one-sided diplomatic break with Czechoslovakia.

The Czech minister to Lisbon, however, remained at his post. Lisbon has severed its diplomatic relations at Praha.

(At Praha, hope was expressed for an amicable settlement of the dispute with Portugal. Powers friendly to both nations were said to be attempting to clarify and readjust the differences.)

CALEDONIA AWAY ON THIRD FLIGHT

BOTWOOD, Nfld., Aug. 20 (AP).—Imperial Airways' flying boat Caledonia rose gracefully from the sheltered waters of Botwood Harbor tonight on another experimental trans-Atlantic flight to Foynes, Ireland.

The giant plane, with her crew of four, took off at 1.40 p.m. (P.S.T.) and headed eastward on her second crossing from this side.

Flight of the Caledonia will complete the third round-trip of Imperial Airways' planes, which started their experimental flights early in July.

PLANT STORMED BY ANGRY MOB

Police With Drawn Revolvers Disperse Hostile Crowd at Montreal

MONTREAL, Aug. 20 (AP).—Some 300 men late tonight stormed the St. Henri plant of Dominion Textile Company, whose 10,000 employees went on strike nineteen days ago, smashing windows with a shower of bricks and stones. They were dispersed only after the eight constables on duty had drawn revolvers and formed a line in front of the mob.

No one was injured, but the plant watchman said they were forced to duck behind machinery to avoid the broadside hurled by the crowd which marched up the narrow street leading to the big mill and let fly their missles.

The big plant, situated in the heart of St. Henri tenement and industrial district of southwest Montreal, was reported operating with a skeleton staff after the company reopened its doors two days ago.

WINDOWS SMASHED

Many of the front windows in the four-story annex across the road from the main plant which covers a block, were smashed before men in the plant could grab the fire hoses and rush to the front of the building.

The police guard, decreased after the streets were abandoned by strikers today, was doubled at midnight and police resumed the heavy armed patrols they previously had stationed around the plant, one of the company's nine closed when the strike was called.

Fishing Improves for Governor-General on His Last Day in Camp

Lord Tweedsmuir Catches Big Trout, but Son Surpasses Him With Camp's Record Fish—Move Today to Bella Coola

(By BRITISH COLUMBIA POLICE RADIO)

INTATA LAKE, B.C., Aug. 20.—Honorable Alastair Buchan today broke this camp's record for heavy trout, catching one weighing two and one-half pounds, to top the one-and-three-quarter-pound fish caught only a few minutes before by Lord Tweedsmuir, his father.

The viceregal party fished today at Nechacko River (Big River in English) and caught twenty-eight trout, all good sized ones, in an hour and a half. His Excellency, Lady Tweedsmuir, Mrs. George Pape, her lady-in-waiting; Mr. Buchan, and Lieut. S. G. Riversmith, aide-de-camp, were taken to Nechacko by boat, and picked up at 4 o'clock in the afternoon by seaplanes, which brought them back to camp in time for a tea and reception to the camp staff.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK

It was the first real fishing luck the viceregal party had experienced and it occurred on what was expected to be their last day in camp.

Their Excellencies received at the tea party and the Governor-General told the guests how much he had

FRANCE ORDERS SEAPLANE PATROL

Will Give Full Protection to Shipping in Mediterranean Against Raiders of Merchantmen

PARIS, Aug. 20 (AP).—The French naval ministry today ordered planes as well as warships to protect shipping in the Mediterranean against unidentified raiders harassing vital sea lanes between France and her colonies.

A regular seaplane patrol will be established over the sea, particularly between Marseille and Tunis, and along the Tunisian coast.

An individual warship escort for vessels leaving Tunisian ports, which was established after attacks on the Spanish government tanker Campeador, August 13, and the Panamanian tanker George W. McKnight, August 15, will be discontinued.

CONGRESS WILL ADJOURN TODAY

John L. Lewis Rails at Leaders for Halting Wage Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP).—United States Congress coasted comfortably along toward adjournment today with just a few more issues to be settled before the legislators say a willing farewell to the steamy heat of a Washington Summer and the even more torrid controversies of the past session.

Officially and definitely, party leaders in both Houses fixed the adjournment hour at late tomorrow afternoon or some time tomorrow evening.

WIDE-RANGE TOPICS

Throughout the afternoon, the Senate happily added items to the $138,000,000 third deficiency appropriation bill, while the House debated the advisability of buying reindeer for the Alaskan Eskimos and of sending a delegation on an Autumnal junket to Honolulu.

Then into this idyllic situation strode John L. Lewis of the Committee for Industrial Organization, irate and storming at the Democratic leadership because of the fact that the wage-hour bill passed by the Senate is now inextricably trapped in the House rules committee.

Wilson, C.E., has been given the commission to inquire into the Beban Mine disaster (in which three men lost their lives) to ascertain if there was any negligence on the part of the mine manager or the mines inspectors.

The inquiry will open here on Monday, August 30.

QUARTER OF SHANGHAI BURNS AS BOMBS AND SHELLS FALL FROM TWO OPPOSING ARMIES

Large Proportion of British Investments in City Seriously Endangered by Widespread Fires Sweeping Unchecked in Midst of Hostilities—United States Seaman Killed

Japanese Fight Desperately To Repulse Chinese Attack

SHANGHAI, Aug. 21 (AP).—Disastrous fires ravaged one fourth of Shanghai on both sides of the Whangpoo River, early today, touched off by bombs or shells of Japanese and Chinese forces struggling for possession of the city.

A huge British-owned cotton warehouse in Pootung went up in flames, casting a dancing light on British and French warships anchored nearby.

A mile-long stretch of Broadway, on the opposite bank, was consumed by a blaze that, Chinese sources said, was set by Japanese using every weapon at their command to stave off a Chinese wedge between their Hangkew and Yangtzepoo forces.

Havas News Agency said it was estimated 70 per cent of all British investments in Shanghai were seriously endangered by the widespread fires which there was no means of combatting.

Emergency fire brigades did what they could to keep the warehouse conflagration from enveloping the entire crowded Pootung section, target for nine days of pounding by Japanese warships and planes seeking to destroy Chinese troops entrenched there.

INTERNATIONAL INCIDENTS

Two international incidents marked yesterday's bitter fighting. The cruiser Augusta, flagship of the United States Asiatic fleet, was struck by an anti-aircraft shell that killed Freddie John Falgout, twenty-

IS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

Chinese Commander-in-Chief Expects Speedy Success for His Troops

By MORRIS J. HARRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Aug. 20 (AP).—General Chang Chi-Chung, commander-in-chief of the Chinese armies defending Shanghai, told me tonight that the Sino-Japanese conflict would end soon with a smashing victory for China.

He added that if a general nation-wide war should break out, time would be on the side of the Chinese who were now prepared to continue the struggle for years.

IN HOUSE OF PEACE

I interviewed him in the camouflaged offices of army general headquarters. The gate leading to his offices bore Chinese characters meaning "House of Peace."

As I drove up, Chinese sentries quickly threw a protective camouflage around my automobile. The wisdom of their action was evident almost immediately.

I had hardly entered general headquarters when a squadron of Japanese bombers roared overhead, dropping bombs that were meant to wipe out the Chinese GHQ. Though they landed close, little damage was done.

VETERAN CONFIDENT

General Chang, veteran of the 1932 Shanghai war, appeared confident that the Japanese forces would shortly be driven south of Soochow Creek in the midst of the International Settlement.

He asserted that in that event he would expect the international authorities to disarm the Japanese.

If they did not or were unable to, he said he would attempt no direct attack on the settlement without instructions from the Central Government at Nanking.

HOLY PROPHET GIVES TROUBLE

Heads Band of Brazilian Fanatics—Sacred Horse Died in Captivity

FORTALEZA, Brazil, Aug. 20 (AP).—Lourenco, Holy Prophet of the Sacred Horse Trancelium, has reappeared, despatches received here from Joazeiro, 400 miles in the interior, stated today.

At the head of a band of ragged fanatics, worshippers of the horse god, he has raided small hamlets in the vicinity, the chief of state police was informed.

Making an urgent plea for protection, the messages said the prophet had sworn death to Federal troops who put him to flight after killing many of his followers and capturing Trancelium in encounters last May and September.

TO BE WIPED OUT

Three Brazilian army officers and three soldiers were killed in last May's battle with the strange cult. Authorities here said they would send a punitive expedition to round up the desperadoes, [illegible] armed with scythes and sickles, and to wipe out the beatific one for good.

Some 2,000 inhabitants of the village of Caldeiro formerly knelt before Trancelium and obeyed the horse's prophet.

The police raided a twilight prayer meeting last September. Lourenco fled to the hills and outraged worshippers streamed from their meeting place as a policeman rode away on the back of Trancelium.

In captivity the horse refused fodder and water, wasted away and died.

"Hell Drivers" Stage Death Defying Feats In Thrilling Show

Fifteen Thousand Persons Witness Breath-Taking Demonstrations of Chrysler Corporation Cars —Mantle and LaPierre Are Drivers

IN probably the most spectacular display ever staged in this city, the Chrysler Corporation of Canada's "Hell Drivers," Tommy Mantle and Warren LaPierre, thrilled and chilled a crowd of 15,000 wide-eyed Victorians as they put their Dodge and Plymouth stock model cars through the most daring and death-defying demonstrations imaginable, in the oval at the Willow's track, last evening.

Anxious to appear before still more local spectators, the drivers will repeat their performance, staged in the interests of proving the dependability and strength of Chrysler Corporation cars, for the last time at the Willows track at 6:30 o'clock tonight. The show here was arranged under the auspices of the Begg Motor Company, Limited, local distributors of Chrysler cars.

Almost paralleling the feats of the drivers was the enthusiastic turnout of Victorians to witness the demonstrations. Last night's crowd was estimated to be among the largest to witness a single performance in the history of the city. Premier T. D. Pattullo and Mayor Andrew McGavin were among the spectators. Officials in charge of the affair predict an even larger crowd for the final "carobatics" this evening.

CONFIDENCE AND TIMING

Complete confidence in their speeding machines and perfect timing were the requisites as the "Hell Drivers" skidded Dodges and Plymouths around the flags placed in the centre of the Willows' oval, at a clip which would make many a speedway driver envious. The uneven grassy course offered a perfect proving ground for springs and chassis, while the showers of dust kicked up by the rearing mounts did not seriously hamper the view or comfort of the thousands of onlookers.

With Ralph Shelley, a member of the troupe, at the microphone of the four-horn equipped sound truck, everyone witnessing the show plainly heard the descriptions of the various events. After introducing the daredevil drivers, he outlined the special features enjoyed in Chrysler-built cars and explained what parts of the machines suffered the most strain as the cars soared over ramps to land forty feet away, rolled over and over or bounded through a flaming board wall at fifty miles an hour.

DEATH-DEFYING FEAT

Probably the most realistic and death-defying feat of the whole performance was the intentional overturning of one of the cars. As is customary in their demonstrations, the drivers toss a coin to decide which will drive through the flaming wall and which will skid his car into a side roll in the special pit provided.

Tommy Mantle drew the overturning assignment, rolling over twice to be exact, and ending up with the four wheels pointing towards the sky. Heading for the plot of loose earth at almost a mile-a-minute, he suddenly swerved his car to one side and applied the brakes.

When the heavy shower of black clods and dust subsided enough for the spectators to see, the small army of attendants rushed to the scene, righted the car, and jumped on the running boards, as Mantle drove off. Outside of badly dented fenders and hood, the machine appeared in good order as it roared around the track to its post in front of the grandstand.

FLAMING WALL

Hardly less spectacular, and certainly more colorful, was the bit of "motor mania" indulged in by LaPierre. With twenty-five gallons of gasoline dumped over a board wall, almost twenty feet high, he roared up a short ramp, placed in front of the flaming structure, and with a resounding crash, literally "brought the house down" as his car went through and landed practically unscathed far on the other side of the obstruction.

The tremendous speed and striking force of the car served to batter down the wall without even a shattered bumper. The fire was extinguished by the fire department.

Starting off with single twenty degree tilts, then performing the same feat in pairs, or Roman style, the "Hell Drivers" wound up this proof of automobile balance, steering and equilibrium by zooming over a ramp together at an angle of forty-five degrees. Such a tremendous test of balance was given the cars in this display that all four wheels spun free clear of the ground before the machine landed right side up and continued unharmed around the track.

In all the broad and hedge jumps executed in these cars, Mr. Shelley stated that not one spring had ever been broken, nor a replacement been necessary, since the tour started from Windsor.

TERRIER CAVORTS

A frisky little terrier added an impromptu thrill to the programme as he raced about in the paths of the careening machines. However, his owner rescued him after numerous close shaves near the churning wheels.

Dependable and accurate stopping was clearly shown during the course of the show. Roaring off the end of the ramps the cars were brought to a full stop in a few feet, without any noticeable variance from their course. Both drivers removed their hands from the steering wheels to show that no guiding force was responsible for the sure and true braking.

A tremendous strain on the gears and driving shaft was provided in the back skid and immediate acceleration in a forward direction. The men put their cars in reverse and backing up wide-open, applied the brakes. In a swirl of dust the autos spun around and continued frontwards in the same direction. This feat, the announcer explained, often resulted in the cars turning over, unintentionally.

FOURTH OF SHANGHAI THE PREY OF FLAMES

one-year-old seaman, and wounded eighteen of his 200 crew mates.

(In Washington a Cabinet Minister said the Cabinet was informed the shell was Japanese.)

A British soldier, whose name was not immediately available, was slightly wounded in the head by a shrapnel fragment while guarding a Japanese hill west of the International Settlement.

DROP POISON GAS

A Chinese spokesman said eleven Japanese planes dropped poison gas bombs during an attack on Kiangyin, near the mouth of the Yangtze River. The statement was made shortly after General Chang Chi-Chung, commander-in-chief of Chinese forces here, was asked what he would do should the Japanese resort to poison gas.

"We must envisage that possibility," he replied, "but I cannot answer now."

The tragedy to the Augusta was a grim sequel to a charge by Mayor O. K. Yui, of Greater Shanghai, the previous day, that Japanese fighting ships used foreign ships as a shield against shelling Pootung. Foreign commanders rejected a Chinese demand that they move their ships at least five miles from Japanese craft.

MISS THEIR MARK

Three Chinese planes failed in an attempt to bomb the Japanese flagship, the cruiser Idzumo, anchored near the American cruiser. The bombs dropped perilously close to Japanese munitions depots.

The Chinese drive to cut further wedges in the Japanese forces stirred Japanese counter-attacks that forced the Chinese to retreat northward and entrench themselves along Howard and North Roads, parallel with Broadway.

Air activity on both sides was intensified. Japanese planes extended their raids 200 miles south of Hankow and visited another terrific bombardment on Nanking. Considerable damage was caused at the airport and the munitions plant at Hankow, while at Tokio Japanese authorities claimed 100 grounded Chinese aircraft and a big hangar were destroyed near Nanking.

FIRES UNCHECKED

Fires raged furiously during the night with no effort to check them. The largest were along the waterfront of Pootung, industrial area across the Whangpoo from Shanghai's International Settlement, where Chinese airmen bombed Japanese properties, and in Hongkew, the Japanese section of the city.

There Chinese batteries blasted at sorely-beset lines of Japanese marines, battling against waves of Chinese infantry trying to break their front and drive them into the Whangpoo.

Japanese properties, the targets of the Chinese airmen and gunners, suffered most heavily. The Nanyang tobacco factory in Hongkew, largest of its kind in China, was a furnace.

The war had driven all firefighting companies out of the burning districts. The flames spread steadily along the waterfronts, close to the anchorages of British, American and French fleets.

NIGHT BOMBARDMENT

From the top of buildings along the Shanghai Bund it appeared the fires stretched along the whole horizon. A full moon added brilliance and helped the opposing gunners, who blasted away at enemy ships and positions far into the night.

Chinese field pieces hidden on rooftops in Chapei, the native section in Northern Shanghai, and batteries well to the south of the International Settlement exchanged steel with the Japanese warships on the river, their shells screaming over or near the international areas where tens of thousands of foreigners remained despite the wholesale evacuations of this week.

SAANICH SQUAD IS VICTORIOUS

Turns Back Cardinals in Women's Softball Play-Offs—Hollywood Wins

Undefeated in league play this season, Manager Jack Taylor's Cardinals took an 8-4 setback last night from the North Saanich Ex-High in the first game of the women's play-off series at Central Park. The second encounter is billed Wednesday at Sidney, and another victory for the suburbanites will give them the pennant. Cardinals won the honors last season.

Cardinals held the lead only once during the game, and that was in the first inning, when they pushed across a trio of markers, two more than the North Saanich squad. The suburban softballers knotted the score with a two-run attack in the third inning, and then went in front in the next session, when they sent three runners the distance. They scored again in the sixth and eighth innings. Cardinals added their other tally in the sixth.

Score by innings— R. H. E.
North Saanich 123 001 01—8 9 5
Cardinals ..... 300 001 00—4 8 4

Batteries—Vera Heal and Gwen Jones; Isa Milliken and Vivian Hannan.

CLUBMEN WIN

Ralph Shepherd's circuit clout in the third frame with two clubmates on the sacks brought Hollywood "B," Lower Island "B" section softball champions, through to a 6-3 victory over Painter's Bruins, Lower Island "A" titleholders, in a Calvert Cup game played at Victoria West Park. Simpson started on the hillock for the fuelmen and was replaced later by Glendenning. Price did the hurling for the winners.

INFORMANT RECEIVES REPRIMAND IN COURT

A charge against Jack Lee of having made use of an automobile without the owner's consent, was dismissed in police court yesterday. The owner of the car, W. A. Heller, was reprimanded for his part in launching the proceedings, the magistrate stating the case presented the appearance of an attempt to collect a bill through the criminal court instead of the civil court.

The owner testified that repairs to the car had been paid for by the accused, the car having been damaged when in the possession of Lee. He was so indefinite about the question of permission having been given the accused to use the car that C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, recommended dismissal of the charge. The case had been before the court since July.

HARDY PILOTS TO COMB NORTHLAND

BARROW, Alaska, Aug. 20 (AP)—Jimmy Mattern, American airman, landed three miles north of this northernmost village late today after a day of peering through broken patches of fog over the Arctic Ocean for traces of the lost Soviet transpolar flyers.

News of his landing near here eased tension felt at Fairbanks for his whereabouts after he failed to radio his position for several hours.

Flying by instruments through fog, Mattern, in a message intercepted by Norman Lott, Pacific Alaska Airways radio operator at Fla., Alaska, reported the fog was broken in spots, allowing him to scan bleak northern wastes at brief intervals.

With Mattern were Co-Pilot Frank Jones and Radioman John A. Stump.

between No. 5 and No. 6 on the recognized scale, which measures lightest shocks as No. 1 and the heaviest on record as No. 10. The second shock was classified as of No. 4 intensity.

FOUNDATIONS SINK

The foundation of the Great Eastern Hotel sank four inches. Guests fled to the streets, some in night clothing.

Scattered plate-glass and other debris was strewn for blocks along the Escolta, Manila's main street.

Movie audiences stampeded into the streets and some injuries were incurred in those rushes. Water gushed down from broken mains. Many churches and other large buildings on the outskirts apparently were damaged to a considerable extent.

The shocks centred only three and a half miles from the downtown area and were felt as far away as Baguio, Philippine Summer capital, 175 miles to the north.

Nippon Yusen Kaisha and Osaka Shoshen Kaisha Will Have Competition

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20 (CP).—Word was received here today from Kobe, head office of the Yamashita Kisen Kaisha Shipping Company, that the line is now ready to enter into competition with Nippon Yusen Kaisha and the Osaka Shoshen Kaisha Companies for the New York and east coast of South America trade.

John Rosene, manager of the Vancouver office of the Yamashita Company, stated he had been informed that, effective early in October, independent operations will be started by the line.

The Y.K.K. has been serving the United States in conjunction with the "K" Line.

NO CHANGE IN PACIFIC

The change in the company policy will not, however, affect the service to Pacific Northwest ports, including Vancouver, which will still be operated in conjunction with the "K" Line.

Effective October 1, Swayne & Hoyt, Ltd., of San Francisco, will act as general agents for the Yamashita Line's United States service at San Francisco, Los Angeles, Houston, New Orleans, Mobile, Birmingham, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati and New York.

Swayne & Hoyt will appoint sub-agents at Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore, shortly.

LARGE FLEET

The Yamashita Line, now operating 140 steamers engaged in world trade, has under construction ten new vessels. Each will be 10,000 dead weight tons and capable of a speed of sixteen knots.

The vessels, when they are delivered, will inaugurate a new service from Japan to New York and to ports on the east coast of South America.

TRANS-CANADA WILL TAKE DELIVERY OF FIRST PLANE SOON

MONTREAL, Aug. 20 (CP).—Trans-Canada Air Lines officials said today delivery of the first of seven airplanes ordered for the new Dominion air service will be made on September 1, probably at Winnipeg or Vancouver.

The ten-passenger machine, two others like it, and four fourteen-passenger airplanes will operate between Montreal and Vancouver.

STAR BOATS RACE TODAY

Royal Victoria Yacht Club Members Holding Fishing Party for Prizes

While the series of Royal Victoria Yacht Club races for dinghies concluded last Saturday (Onaway, Peter Hincks, winning the Devonian Trophy), there are still some races to be sailed before the winner of the Longstreth Trophy for star boats will be determined. The stars will race today in the last but one of the series for the larger type of racing craft.

Following the finish of the star race over the Cadboro Bay course, the yacht club fleet will hold a salmon fishing party. All the boat skippers have signified their eagerness to take part in this event, there being prizes for the biggest fish caught by members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club. At the conclusion of the afternoon's sport, tea in the clubhouse will be enjoyed.

Tomorrow there will be races for the Virtue Cup and the Discovery Cup. The larger boats will sail to Hine Bank and back, a distance of approximately thirty miles, while the stars and dinghies will sail around Chatham and Discovery Islands. It is expected all the small craft will sail in the latter event, while four cruisers had entered last night for the Virtue Cup—Minena, Dorothy, Cherie and Richmond II.

ROUTE NOT DANGEROUS

Three Round Trips Between Hudson Bay and Europe Quite Possible

OTTAWA, Aug. 20 (CP).—The Hudson Bay shipping route "is no more dangerous, and in some respects less dangerous, than the St. Lawrence route," it was stated in a report of the Imperial shipping committee released here yesterday.

The committee, which sets insurance rates for the far northern shipping lane, reported a fast, modern tramp steamer would have no difficulties in making three round trips between Churchill and Europe in the official navigation season from August 5 to October 15. The committee recommended gyro compasses for ships on the route, in fact made reductions in insurance rates for vessels equipped with them.

EXTENDING AIR ROUTE

Regular Run From Edmonton to Dawson Will Start Monday

EDMONTON, Aug. 20 (CP).—Extension of the Edmonton-White Horse air route to Dawson, Y.T., was announced here today by Grant McConachie, president of United Air Transport.

Establishment of the air service between the Alberta and Yukon Territory capitals, reaching into one of the richest and most active gold mining areas in Canada's Northwest, has been urged by Yukon residents since inauguration of the White Horse stretch early in July.

Regular weekly run from Edmonton to White Horse will begin at dawn on Monday, with Pilot Ernest Kubicek at the controls of the plane. Following an overnight stop at White Horse, the plane will take off for Dawson.

To facilitate flying over the route, the Dominion Government will establish weather stations at Fort Nelson and Lower Post, both in British Columbia, and possibly at Fort St. John, B.C., as well as at the Edmonton airport. Although no definite date has been set, the weather offices will open shortly.

On the return flight from Dawson, after a one-day pause there, an overnight stop at White Horse will be made.

Engineering Institute Head Was Formerly Deputy Minister of Defence

George J. Desbarats, former deputy minister of national defence, reached Victoria yesterday from Vancouver, and with Mrs. Desbarats is registered at the Empress Hotel. Mr. Desbarats is now president of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

Following a brilliant engineering career in the East, Mr. Desbarats was made acting deputy minister of marine and fisheries in 1908, and deputy in 1910. He has represented the Dominion at the radio telegraph conference in London in 1912, and at the seamen's conference of the League of Nations in 1920.

He was made deputy minister of national defence in 1923, and continued in that position until 1932.

ATTENDS RECEPTION

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Desbarats were guests at an informal reception arranged by the Victoria Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Green, 347 Foul Bay Road. Mr. Desbarats is president of the Engineering Institute. Among those who attended were: Engineer Commander G. L. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Swan, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Davy, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Barltrop, Mr. and Mrs. E. I. W. Jardine, Mrs. G. Phillips, G. I. Irwin, Kenneth Moodie, H. C. Kinghorn, F. W. Knowstubb, G. G. Aitken, R. A. Bainbridge and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Reid.

RAISE FUNDS TO ASSIST COUNTRY

Local Chinese Contribute to "War Chest" for General Chiang Kai-Shek's Warriors

Local Chinese are busily engaged in raising a "war chest" to aid General Chiang Kai-Shek and his central government troops in the defence of China. Already over $20,000 Mex. have been subscribed. Seattle Chinese sent $100,000 to Nanking to help their countrymen.

Officials of the China Salvation Society in charge of a drive for funds, are Mah Leung, Chinese teller in the Royal Bank on Douglas Street, treasurer, and Lee Hock Ming, Herbert Lee, Wong Wah Yip and Chow Gar Chen, committee chairmen.

Progress of the fund will be reported in The New Republic, local Chinese newspaper, published at 640 Cormorant Street. No objective has been set, and money will be immediately telegraphed to a Nanking bank.

Chinese in logging camps, sawmills, stores and farms on the lower end of the Island, have promised to contribute a portion of their wages to the fund.

Day and night Chinese congregate around the bulletin board at the corner of Government and Fisgard Streets, to read the latest news from China translated from radio reports.

MAGISTRATE SPEAKS

Magistrate R. B. Graham, of Winnipeg, was the speaker at the final luncheon of the meeting, and spoke of some humorous incidents in police court hearings and of the changes in modern life and their relation to the legal profession.

Social conditions and customs had been greatly changed by modern methods of communication, he said, but the legal profession changed little. Lawyers were still controlled by the dead voice of decided cases.

R. M. Willes Chitty, of Toronto, led a discussion of the Solicitors' Guarantee Fund of New Zealand and the appointment of King's Counsel. He said the guarantee fund had worked well in New Zealand and suggested it was high time serious attention was given in Canada to some method of guaranteeing clients against loss of their funds through bad practice on the part of their solicitors.

SEIZURES OF GOODS

J. C. Macfarlane, K.C., of Toronto, read a paper on the law relating to the sale of goods on consignment. He said in some provinces, where goods were sold on consignment and were delivered to rented property, they could be seized by the landlord for rent and in other provinces were exempt from seizure for rent.

A proposal by Mr. Justice H. V. Bigelow, of the Saskatchewan Supreme Court, that a committee be appointed to look into the question of pensions for widows of judges, was not acted upon. The judge said judges' widows should receive pensions as the widows of civil servants, and suggested some plan of contributions to a pension fund from the judges themselves could be worked out.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Peter Rabbit Listens to the Wrong Voice

—By THORNTON W. BURGESS—

Peter Rabbit didn't play fair. No, sir, Peter didn't play fair. People who have too much curiosity about other people's affairs seldom do play fair. He didn't mean to be unfair. Oh my, no! Peter didn't mean to be unfair. When he left Chatterer the Red Squirrel sitting on the old stonewall on the edge of Farmer Brown's Old Orchard he intended to go straight home to the dear Old Briar Patch. He was a little disappointed, was Peter, that Chatterer hadn't told him just where his new house was. Not that it really mattered; he just wanted to know that was all. With every jump away from the old stonewall that desire to know just where Chatterer's new house was seemed to grow. Peter stopped and looked back. He couldn't see Chatterer now because the bushes hid him. And if he couldn't see Chatterer, why, of course Chatterer couldn't see him.

Peter sat down and began to pull his whiskers in a way he has when he is trying to decide something. It seemed as if two little voices were quarrelling inside him. "Go along home like the good fellow you are, and mind your own business," said one. "Steal back to the old wall and watch Chatterer and so find out just where his new house is; he'll never know anything about it, and there'll be no harm done," said the other little voice. It was louder than the first voice and Peter liked the sound of it.

"I believe I will," said he, and without waiting to hear what the first little voice would say to that he turned about and very carefully and softly tiptoed back to the old stonewall. Right near it was a thick little bush. It seemed to Peter that it must have grown there just to give him a hiding place. He crawled under it and lay very flat. He could see along the old stonewall in both directions. Chatterer was sitting just where he had left him. He was looking in the direction that Peter had gone when he had said good-bye. Peter chuckled to himself. "He's waiting to make sure I have gone before he goes to that new house of his," thought Peter. "This is the time I'll fool him."

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself, Peter Rabbit; this is none of your business," said that little small voice down inside.

"You're not doing a bit of harm. Chatterer has no business to try to keep his new house a secret anyway," said the other little voice inside. And because of his dreadful curiosity Peter liked the sound of that little voice best and listened to it, and after a while the first little voice grew discouraged and stopped.

It Was Louder Than the First Voice, and Peter Liked the Sound of It

Chatterer sat right where he was for what seemed to Peter a very long time. But by and by he gave a sudden funny little flirt of his tail and ran swiftly along the old wall a little way. Then with a hasty look around he disappeared in a hole. A minute later he popped his head out for a hasty look around and then disappeared again. He did this two or three times as if he was anxious. Peter chuckled to himself. "That's his new house right there," said he to himself, "and now that I know where it is I think I'll hurry along home to the dear Old Briar Patch." He was just getting ready to start when Chatterer popped out of his hole and sat upon a big stone. He was talking out loud and Peter listened. Then his long ears began to burn, for this is what he heard.

"I'm glad that Peter's not a spy. For spies are hateful as can be. It's dreadful how some people try Affairs of other folks to see."

Chatterer whisked out of sight and Peter hurried to get away. His ears still burned, and somehow he didn't feel so tickled over the thought that he had discovered Chatterer's secret as he had thought he would. And over in the hole in the old stonewall Chatterer the Red Squirrel was laughing as if there was some great joke. There was, and the joke was on Peter Rabbit. "You see, he hadn't discovered Chatterer's new house at all

City Fiscal Agent Awaits News From Toronto on Sinking Fund Bond Negotiations

Following a conference with Mayor Andrew McGavin yesterday morning, Charles S. Henley, city fiscal agent, stated he expected to hear from Jules E. Fortin at Toronto early next week in regard to final negotiations over the debt adjustment plan.

The London committee representing English holders of city of Victoria bonds desired that a proportion of the sinking fund be allocated for sterling bonds and that these bonds be purchased with the sum.

While the City Council did not agree entirely, it assented to an allocation being made, with a proviso that sterling bonds be purchased only if available at the same yield basis. If not, dollar bonds would be purchased. The Canadian bondholders' committee agreed with the council, and it is anticipated the London committee will assent to the amendment.

enjoyed his stay at this camp just outside the British Columbia provincial park named two years ago in his honor.

"I hope," he said, "that this splendid country and facilities for sport in the park will attract the very best people from all over the world."

MOVING BY PLANE

Tomorrow the party will start to move by seaplane from camp to Bella Coola and from there by automobile forty miles in to Stuie Lodge, where it will remain probably till the morning of August 26, then it will return to Bella Coola to be greeted by Premier Pattullo, settlers and Indians and tendered a reception.

The Premier will arrive aboard the destroyer Fraser and will accompany the party to Ottawa, stopping en route for a few hours at Jasper, Alberta, and for two days at Fort William and Port Arthur, Ontario.

On the flight to Bella Coola tomorrow the party will soar above the Iniltas Valley, through which Alexander Mackenzie, heroic Scottish explorer, forged his way 145 years ago from the site of the present town of Peace River, Alberta, to the Mackenzie.

His Excellency expects to visit the spot where Mackenzie tasted the salt water of the Pacific on South Bentinck Arm, camped and wrote in red paint, which has since been restored, "Alexander Mackenzie from Canada by land the 22nd July, 1793."

PHILOSOPHY OF ACCIDENT PREVENTION

The Canadian Public Health Association is concerned about the philosophy of accident prevention, and a pamphlet recently published, and written by N. L. Burnette, chairman of its Accident Prevention Committee, presents many useful ideas on the subject. Mr. Burnette does not believe that much is gained by the safety propaganda which lays stress on "Care" and "Courtesy." So far as the first is concerned, he says that "it is predicated upon the untenable assumption that there is an appreciable number of drivers who are potential homicides or suicides." As to courtesy, he says, it is questionable whether "it can be smeared on superficially like a cosmetic." Moreover, he believes that the "fear motive" which is illustrated by horrifying descriptions of the sufferings of accident victims, or motion pictures of hairbreadth escapes from sudden death, fails "because it is psychologically unsound." The protagonists of this method "do not understand that it appeals to a sadistic tendency which is widespread in mankind, or to the closely allied basic reasons for seeing the funny side of other people's troubles."

Mr. Burnette believes that the sciences that have to do with the preservation and restoration of human efficiency have a share in assuming the burden of accident prevention. He suggests that the public should be tactfully and gradually inoculated with the idea that Safety "is being remiss if it does not take advantage of the experiences, advice and skills of the professional groups which have a record of actual achievement in the prevention of premature fatality and unnecessary suffering." Moreover, he believes that the situation calls for the collection of sufficient data on the subject, disclosing an indication of cause and effect relationship between unsafe driving and certain physical characteristics, mental attributes, or unwise habits. It is from these that the precautionary inferences can be drawn, and from them a curriculum of cautionary educational material can be prepared so as to develop a greater sense of responsibility among the drivers of motor cars.

One aspect of dangerous driving to which too little attention has been paid is that of vision. This is a matter which hardly enters at all into any tests given before licences are granted. There are many accidents, too, that arise through carelessness, discourtesy and violation of the laws. Mr. Burnette says that "an epidemiology of accidents must include knowledge of intrinsic factors involving human deficiencies, or defects, or maladjustments, both mental and physical," and the collection of this knowledge calls for the use of the resources of preventive medicine. This, then, is a plea for the direct participation of health departments in traffic safety, something in which they have hardly been interested at all up to date. The steady and progressive increase in accidents on the road everywhere should persuade governments that it is desirable to call the medical profession to their assistance for the prevention of death and suffering from external causes.

A NEGLECTED GRAVE

It seems almost unbelievable that the grave of Sir John A. Macdonald in Cataraqui Cemetery, Kingston, should be allowed to remain in a state of neglect. This is stated officially to be due to maintenance fees not having been paid since the death of Sir Hugh John Macdonald, son of the great statesman. That, however, is an explanation that is no excuse, for it could well have been expected that the Government would step in and maintain the appearance of the last resting-place of one of the chief personages in the country's history. Apparently, however, the Government has made no offer, but Mr. Garrett Tyrrell, secretary of the Central Conservative Association, has decided to raise a fund.

Sir John worked for forty-seven years for moderate and sane government. On his death, in 1891, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said of him: "For the supreme art of governing men Sir John Macdonald was gifted as few men in any land or in any age were gifted—gifted with the highest of all qualities, qualities which would have made him famous wherever exercised, and which would have shone all the more conspicuously the larger the theatre. . . . He was also endowed with those inner, subtle, undefinable graces of soul which win and keep the hearts of men." It is this man's grave that the country has allowed to be neglected.

INDIA'S RAILWAYS

The Indian Railway Inquiry Committee, after an exhaustive survey of Indian railways, has reached certain conclusions which are of interest in this country, where a measure of national ownership maintains. One finding is that present methods of State operation "tend to cramp initiative and to impose complicated regulations." It is believed that it is the policy of the Central Government ultimately to assume management of all Class 1 roads, but the committee does not recommend such a course on the basis of present experience. It declares that "the history of State management in India is not encouraging, and it seems clear that present methods are unsatisfactory. . . . If, therefore, the only choice available lies between a continuance of private management and an extension of State management on existing lines, we should strongly recommend the former alternative."

Where there is State management the recommendation is that there should be avoidance of political interference with the authority, and freedom also from administrative dictation. The committee makes the recommendation that the headquarters of the new Federal Railway Authority should be in Calcutta, with a branch office in Bombay, "in order to segregate it from the political atmosphere of Delhi and Simla, and place it in the closest possible contact with the commercial community." The committee also recommends that the Government should confine its interests in the State railways to that of a debenture holder, "seeing that no surplus is likely to be available for general revenues." The committee which made the report consisted of Sir Ralph Wedgewood, chief general manager of the London and North-Eastern (Great Britain), Mr. W. A. Stanier, chief mechanical engineer of the London, Midland and Scottish (Great Britain), and Mr. H. Cheadle, chief traffic manager of the South African Railways.

A RECEIPT FOR NOTHING

No Government in the history of Canada has written so many chapters of error into a few years as that of Premier Aberhart in Alberta. Even when it decided on its first remission of taxation it blundered. On May 1 last year it put a two per cent sales tax into effect. That, presumably, was at the time regarded as a part of the Social Credit gospel, but ideas on this doctrine are somewhat fluctuating. It has now been decided to abolish that tax, its disappearance to take effect on September 1. The result has been to slow up buying of everything save necessities, the people saving their money until the sales tax has disappeared. The Alberta newspapers report that there have been cancellations of orders on a large scale and hundreds of men and women selling goods on commission have been thrown out of employment. In fact, there has been something in the nature of paralysis in business.

To meet the situation the Government has suspended the tax and has done so in a way that gives an indication of its mental processes. The Provincial Treasurer explains that, under suspension, when a sale is made for, say a dollar, the customer is to be handed the goods he has bought together with a "receipt" for the two cents sales tax he has not paid. "This," says Mr. Solon Low, "will be remitting to the general public the amount of tax which they would have to pay under the Sales Tax Act." Perhaps this is in the nature of a Social Credit gift.

For every dollar collected in taxes during the last seven years the United States has been spending two dollars. This would appear to be mortgaging the future with a vengeance, and raises the question of the Government at Washington ultimately defaulting to the people it governs.

THE SONG OF DAULAC

No matter now what they called me once in the city,
Nor the dead man stark under the starred sky,
Nor the face of my true-love turned to me in horror and pity
As she bade me good-bye.

No matter now, that I am an exile forever,
Nor the blood on my hand, nor the deathful wound at my heart—
All shall be canceled tonight in the doomed endeavor
With which I depart.

Spring comes up, by the river, the buds are swelling,
Jade-green tassels swing on the tamarack tree;
The geese return, their silver clamour of belling
Blown from the sea.

The red men's fires are doubled red in the river—
The vast voice of their shouting shakes the wood;
Tonight we shall hurl them back from Mount Royal forever,
And die in our blood.

—What of it, Frenchmen, so the lilies are splendid
Over the city when we are dust on the sands?
We shall die, but our name and our fame shall never be ended,
Nor the work of our hands.

Who have built for the sure defence of a feeble people
This frail invincible wall, our body and breath.
Stand safe, O cradle and hearth, O roof and steeple!
Live by our death.

Our Movies

Younger Victoria is fast adopting the phrases made popular by the staff of the local movie company. "Roll it," says the director when the shot is taken; "cut it" when it ends. When there is a delay, voices from all parts of the lot chorus "Who's got the ball?" The correct thing for evening wear amongst the girls is no longer a dress—under the influence of Hollywood it becomes a "glamour gown." . . . The cast is most certainly not without humor. After five minutes' clever pantomime before the cameras, an actress approached the director. "The dialogue was perfect," she murmured. . . . One of the better-known members of a Provincial political party, who plays the part of the Irish policeman on New York park duty, has an urge to go to Spain and work on a mine-sweeper. . . . He has had experience in war time, and contends it is the only branch of the service worth while. . . . Said the comedian: "When I was playing in Ireland they used iron bars over the orchestra pit to protect the musicians. When the 'gods' disliked a turn they threw bottles and rocks on the stage." . . . "That's real dramatic criticism," smiled the "policeman."—B.G.

Wanted! A Firebug

A young firebug who delights in setting grass fires in and around Beacon Hill Park is causing the city no small amount of cash in the number of runs the fire department is forced to take to the scenes of his little pranks. One gentleman reported, the other day, he saw a young man light a fire in the grass at the park, but by the time he had stamped it out, to prevent spreading, the incendiary had jumped on his bicycle and was out of sight. The sooner this prankster is looking out from the inside of a jail the better it will be for everybody.—W.I.P.

Fired With Ambition

With a merry whistle on his lips, Fireman Matt blithely strode down a quiet street on his way home from a long day at headquarters. Suddenly he spotted smoke and flames on the boulevard near the base of a telephone pole, and prepared to battle the conflagration single-handed. Matt was amazed to see several youths gleefully riding their bicycles through the fire. He sped to the scene and soon stamped out the blaze. The boys disappeared in double quick time. "Come back here. What do you think you're doing? I could arrest you for lighting that fire," Matt shouted at one nipper who was not as speedy as the rest. Terrified, the lad hopped off his bicycle and awaited the consequences. Then Matt received his second surprise. The boy was his own son, on a brand new bicycle father had purchased as a prize for passing in school. He shamefacedly confessed the lads had read about the death-defying automobile events at the Willows and decided to try some of the stunts on their bicycles. He stoutly maintained that it was not his idea, nor had he set the fire. But Matt informed us sonny boy is still in the "dog house."—G.B.

Glancing Over Sport

The National Baseball League dates back to 1876, but the national sport goes back long before that. In the Summer of 1876, for instance, they played an "Old-Timers' Game" in St. Louis, on the same ground now occupied by the St. Louis Cardinals, namely, Sportsman's Park. The St. Louis Empire Club of 1875 played the original Empire team of 1868 with the "sixty-eighters," losing by a 39 to 11 score. . . . Golfers in Guayaquil, Ecuador, find it mighty tough on their game for six months of the year. The links are a real water hazard, for they are flooded six months without fail, and so the boys put their clubs away until it dries out sufficiently to play again. . . . Shortstop Lynn Myers, of the Asheville Club, a Cardinal farm, made some copy for Bob Ripley the other day, when he scored seven runs in a single game without being scharged with an official time at bat. Myers walked five times and was hit by pitched balls on his two trips.—J.D.

Real Generosity

Real generosity. We had often heard of the public - spirited philanthropies of some of Hollywood's great, and the other night we were privileged to see an act of the same generous nature that has characterized these public benefactors. A crowd gathered outside the Court House to witness the shooting by Central Films of a scene for the new picture, "Manhattan Whirlwind." Miss Rosalind Keith, who is starred in the story, was doing the act, which had to be repeated a number of times before a satisfactory shot was made. At its completion she was walking towards her chair to rest for a time (the filming, incidentally lasted until the early morning), when she discovered a white-haired but greatly enthralled old lady sitting in her chair. She resolutely refused to claim her seat, although she was obviously fatigued, but insisted that the old lady retain it.—E.B.

PRAISES SHOWBOAT

Sir,—As a visitor from Oakland, California, will you please grant me a small space to express my appreciation of the many attractions your fair city offers. I would especially like to mention your Showboat. It is a great institution, and one of which you should be justly proud. Its ideal location with the warm "Welcome" sign, has won the hearts of all entering your gates.

The delightful entertainments, good music combined with comfortable seats under a sheltered embankment, where thousands can inhale the glorious sea air are unsurpassed by anything I have yet seen.

I attended a benefit concert on Saturday evening, arranged by the manager, which I shall long remember. Both staff and artists gave their services free to procure a wheel chair for a crippled newsboy. All seats were filled and thousands lined the sidewalks. Great honor is due to these splendid people.

Together with four other Californians, I am leaving to boost your city, your Showboat and your fine people.

"AFTERNOON TEA"

Sir,—That tea drinking, as you say in your recent editorial, "Afternoon Tea," may be responsible for grievous harm either to the complexion or the stomach, there is no doubt and most dietitians warn against constant use of tea. Besides, it doesn't stop with the afternoon tea, but there is breakfast, dinner and supper; in fact, as the slogan goes, anytime is tea time. But when we are urged by some advertisements: "Drink tea for vitality," it is time the true facts about tea were better known.

Theobromin, the narcotic principal in tea, is the stimulating agent in the drink causing a pleasant feeling; but all stimulants leave traces of poisons in the body, causing a craving for further stimulants. A healthy alkaline condition of the blood cannot be maintained with regular tea or coffee drinking, and the lack of perfect health in the majority of modern people is no doubt due to the slow acting poisons in our seemingly harmless popular drinks.

Now, there are many suitable and pleasant substitutes for tea, and if the public were aware of these, they would in time break the habit—for a habit, that's all it is—of tea drinking, with the result of improved health and more pep in old age; for, if old age means feebleness in body and mind, as it does with so many, there was something wrong in their ways of living.

The leaves of the common raspberry, when dried and crushed, make a very pleasant tea, and for fine aroma try lemon balm (melissa officinalis) an old-fashioned herb grown in many gardens. For variety, the common mallow and yarrow (Achillea millefolium) a wayside herb, make delightful drinks, not merely harmless, but tonic and healthful to the system, and last, but not least, the dried heads of clover, with a fragrance of new mown hay in June, is an excellent blood purifier and deserves the widest possible use.

"CHURCH AND COMMUNITY"

Sir,—I am writing a line to thank you for your editorial in Sunday's Colonist on "Church and Community," and especially for one or two sentences in it.

In these days when the tendency seems to be for modifications and substitutes of the Christian faith, it was with a feeling of thankfulness I read in your article, "what remains unchanged in a changing world is Christian faith. That faith can be taught so that the modern mind will understand it, but there is no necessity of adapting that faith to suit changing conditions. It is the modern world that must be adapted to Christianity if there is to be peace in hearts." And lower down in the article, "it is not a new religion or a modernized Christianity, but a recovery of the faith of our fathers, a faith that came from the heart of Christ, a faith that is sacramental because the church cannot disobey the commands of its founder."

Christianity is a divine revelation, which revelation is contained in the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments. Teachings which do not conform to that revelation have no right to the name of Christian. There are teachers in these days claiming to be Christian who are yet denying every essential doctrine of Christianity.

"To the law and to the testimony; if they speak not according to this word it is because there is no light in them," was written by Isaiah; and Jeremiah wrote "the prophets prophesy falsely and the priests bear rule by their means; and my people love to have it so; and what will ye do in the end thereof."

I think it was Dinsdale T. Young who, when writing on the modernism which is becoming so prevalent, said "the new theology seems to imply a new morality whereby men can accept Christian money while preaching doctrines destructive of the Christian faith."

Men are at perfect liberty to teach alternatives to the Christian faith, but they should be honest about it and call their doctrines by another name.

ARCHAIC ROAD-BUILDING

Sir,—I was very much interested in reading the comments of "J. C.," the Boise, Idaho, journalist, in this morning's Colonist. I have often wondered what our visitors' impressions are like, and this one is good.

Although I do not agree with him regarding our lack of beautiful women, I certainly agree with his other views. Maybe our women do not use so much "war paint" as they do in Idaho! After all, that kind of beauty is only skin deep.

With regard to his opinion that our Island "should attempt to erase the notorIety of its lethargy," I think he is quite right. My job is building roads. For the past six years I have been employed by logging concerns, also have done a little highway grading. We do not need to import American highway engineers. We have qualified men right here on the Island. Also, there does not seem to be a shortage of money. The whole trouble is that we are not using 1937 methods. At this time, at various points on the Island there is some activity in road construction. Most of the methods being used are ten or fifteen years behind the times.

It is about time we got busy and had some planned programme to make our roads fit and safe to drive upon.

We have—or had—a slogan, "This is your Island; help develop it." Why this lethargy? If we have better roads we will have better business. We have marvelous natural resources.

ECONOMIC VIEWPOINTS

Sir—In his Saturday column Mr. Sandham Graves breaks out his colors as an economist with not very brilliant results. In the traditional manner he describes the four "stages" of an economic collapse without giving the cause.

It is true that he calls "lack of confidence" the cause, but fails to state what generates the lack of confidence. To be brief: Before every depression there is no "lack of confidence" in the vast mass of the people and among the business men. They, in fact, see around them a huge producing plant ready and willing to produce and distribute; millions of workers willing and able to work, produce goods and services, and willing and able to consume them. They suffer, in truth, from that ailment another brand of nit-wit economists give as the reason for a depression, viz., over-confidence. "It can't happen here," was, in fact, the battle cry of business men and everyone else in the days before the 1929 crash, simply because everyone had his eye on the producing plant and not on the thing that permits the producing plant to function.

So what starts the "lack of confidence"? Nothing more remarkable than the fact that the producing plant begins to find itself unable to sell its goods at prices that will meet their costs. It has arrived at the spot where it is no longer possible for it to repay its working capital loans to the banks and support a towering debt structure, for that debt structure is created debt money, and the debt money is all the money in existence. When banks find it hard to get back the loans they have created they do the natural thing according to "sound banking practice," they call in loans and make no more. The crash follows.

The huge plant fails to idleness, the workers with it. Business men lose their shirts, and the lives of millions are ruined. Then something has to be done. The debt load is liquidated by the simple means of liquidating the people, and the nation is ready for a new debt load (a total of $300,000,000, one-third of all Canada's money, was wiped out of existence between 1930 and 1933). So the Government, to feed the hungry, begin to borrow money from the banks that is, the Government borrows, and every cent it borrows is created by the banks by the simple process of writing figures in the bank's books.

Soon the money structure begins to be built up again. As the money is created it is poured into "relief." The people who receive it spend it. As the money volume, created largely by debt owing by the Government to the banks, rises, then prices begin to rise and business men feel better because they are selling more goods, they become better "credit risks" to the banks, and lo! the depression is "over" except for, in Canada, 200,000 heads of families that number in all about a million people. These latter cannot get jobs, and we don't quite know whether to let them live or let them die.

That is where we are today.

But let Mr. Graves note: No depression ever starts until a shortage of purchasing power in the hands of the people makes it impossible for industry to sell its goods at prices equal to their costs. No depression ever ends until the process of liquidating the debt structure stops and new money created by Government borrowing begins pumping purchasing power into the market again. That is the way the depression was stopped in Canada, Australia, England, the United States and Sweden. A flannel-lined percolator for Mr. Graves if he can find a single exception to this rule.

A BOYCOTT

Sir,—The Mothers' Council, at its meeting on Tuesday, August 17, at O'Brien Hall, in protest against our youth being arrested when attempting to interview the Italian Consul, unanimously passed a resolution and have taken a vow to cease purchasing all Italian, German and Japanese goods, and is asking all its friends to do likewise. It will continue this action so long as these nations attack other democratic peoples, and our own youth are prohibited by our authorities from expressing their protests.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of August 21, 1887)

Naval Notes—Rear Admiral Algernon C. F. Heneage has been appointed to relieve Sir Michael Culme-Seymour about the end of October as commander-in-chief of the Pacific Station. Admiral Erde, who was announced as having accepted the appointment, having been forced to give it up owing to ill-health. Sir Michael, with his staff will, by present arrangements, leave for England via the C.P.R. and New York about November 1. In the meanwhile the Admiral contemplates making one or two running trips. The Cormorant will leave Esquimalt for Honolulu on August 30 to relieve the Wild Swan now there. The latter ship will come to Esquimalt, probably arriving the second week in October. She will remain in these waters during the Winter. The Swiftsure is preparing at Plymouth to be commissioned at the end of the year to relieve the Triumph as flagship on the Pacific Station.

More Pacific Mail Steamers—The agent of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in San Francisco, when seen on Friday about the telegraphed statement from New York that there was a possibility that two steamers for the China trade would be chartered by the company, said that there was no doubt as to the chartering taking place. They trade had increased and, besides, it was necessary to meet the competition of the Canadian Pacific line of steamers.

Lord Tennyson's Tour—Lord Tennyson has just returned to England from a long yachting trip, in the course of which he touched on the shores of Canada. It is reported that he has been neglecting poetry while advocating the claims of the Canadian Pacific route against the Suez Canal as a way to the East.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

COVERING TOO MUCH TERRITORY

The trouble with the average player on defence is that he tries to cover too much territory. He is like the baseball shortstop who, not contented with snaffling every ball that bounds his way, tries to cover second and third base, as well.

Theoretically, of course, it is a defender's duty to guard as many suits as possible. But, reduced to actual play, theory must be modified considerably. Often a player must give up a stopper in order to keep a mere exit card, or communication card. This point will be made clear in the following hand, which is representative of a large class of hands.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
Match-point duplicate.

The bidding

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♦	Pass
3 NT	Pass	5 ♦	Pass
6 NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

As man be seen, the bidding was rather vigorous on the parts of both North and South. North's jump from three no trump to five diamonds was not so good, his extreme suit length not compensating for his weakness in honor tricks. However, a slam contract really was not greatly to be criticized, since it depended only on a successful search for the club queen. At rubber bridge, six diamonds would be safer than six no trump. South selected no trump on account of the match-point scoring.

West was interested only in finding a safe opening lead, and hit upon the spade ten. Dummy ducked, and East, who recognized the lead as top of nothing, saw that he might be giving declarer two tricks by playing the ace and hence contented himself with an encouraging card. Declarer won, and cashed his three top diamonds, then laid down the club ace. The club jack followed and, when West was not so accommodating as to cover, declarer decided that he would not risk everything on the immediate finesse. If the finesse lost he would go down about four tricks and he, therefore, decided to try to drop the queen doubleton, failing which he might be able to effect a pseudo-squeeze toward the end of the hand.

Of course, declarer was pretty disgusted when he found his troubles would have been over had he let the jack ride, this information reaching him when East failed to follow to the king of clubs.

Three rounds of diamonds were cashed, East discarding hearts and spades almost indiscriminately. West, who already had given a high-low heart on the king and queen of diamonds, now let go one club and two spades. At this point the situation was as follows:

NORTH

♥ K 7
♣ Q

EAST
♠ A J
♥ Q 9

SOUTH

♣ 10 9

On the last diamond East indicated that he was keeping a heart honor by discarding the spade jack. Declarer threw away the jack of hearts. West threw away the defence by the aforesaid insistence on guarding a suit rather than keeping a communication card. On the theory that his partner was guarding spades, West guarded hearts, which forced him to let go the spade ten. Declarer had noted West's discards carefully, and now calmly led dummy's low club. West took the queen, but had to lead a heart to declarer's blank ace, and the established club completed the contract.

Stocks Go Fast On Down Grade At Wall Street

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP).—Stocks rattled down in today's market and most leaders duplicated their yesterday's losses of one to more than three points.

Steels, motors, coppers, rubbers and mail orders led the reaction. Brokers brought out a variety of reasons for the resumption of the slide, although few specific news developments were blamed.

Transfers totalled 799,170 shares against 762,540 Thursday. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off 8 of a point at 67.5. This compares with a low for the year of 62.6 and a high of 75.3.

Conspicuous shares in the losing column included Sears Roebuck at 94, Montgomery Ward at 61, American Smelting 91, Anaconda 57 1-4, Phelps Dodge 50 1-4, U.S. Steel 114 1-4, Bethlehem 97 1-2, General Motors 56 1-4.

National Biscuit was a lively contestant of the trend. Holding an advance of 1 3-8 at 25 3-8 Pennsylvania Railroad was up a shade at 36.

A slump in U.S. Government loans and heaviness in carrier liens darkened the bond market today.

Japanese issues met some offerings following yesterday's late rally. Losses of fractions to a point or more were recorded by Japan 6 1-2s at 74, Japan 5 1-2s at 65, and Ujigawa Electric 7s at 75 1-2. Other foreigns were mostly a little lower.

WHEAT FUTURES GO DOWN AGAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 20 (CP).—General liquidation caused by acute weakness of Chicago corn and wheat futures pushed prices lower for the third consecutive day on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, today.

After holding above yesterday's close on sales of 500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat to exporters and some speculative buying due to delayed harvesting conditions in Manitoba and Southern Alberta, Wheat fuutres dipped to close 1 5-8 to 1 3-4 cents down, October at $1.22 1-2, December $1.19 and May, $1.20 3-8.

Grain deliveries from the Prairie Provinces yesterday totalled 1,236,000 bushels.

Liverpool brokers witnessed another erratic session, and wheat closed firm, 1-4d lower to 1-8d higher. Buenos Aires, at noon, was 3-4 to 1 1-4 cents higher.

Cash wheat trading continued on a slow basis, despite lowering of spreads for top grades of red wheats.

Light buying in oats and barley, by exporters, resulted in those futures trading steady around yesterday's close. Rye dipped 1 1-2 to 1 7-8 cents, while flax was virtually neglected.

WHAT'S DOING ON THE LOCAL RETAIL PRODUCE MARKET

A large quantity of produce was received yesterday by local wholesalers. Hales and Elberta peaches, Ribier, Red Malaga and seedless grapes, Honeydew melons and sweet potatoes were included in the shipments. A small consignment of Okanagan cantaloupes also came in yesterday.

Cantaloupes, peaches, onions and plums are expected from the Okanagan today, along with a shipment of bananas, oranges and grapefruit from the South.

A shipment of Rochester peaches from Yakima will be here today. There are no more cherries on the market and wholesalers do not expect any further shipments. Half a car of Washington apricots will be here soon. The prices are reasonable and the demand is good.

MACON, Ga., Aug. 20 (AP).—Warden Homer Chapman's bloodhound is "in the doghouse" at the Houston County convict camp. The hound was put on the trail of a fugitive but ran so fast he outdistanced the posse. The pursuers, bewildered, followed the yelping of another hound and found a treed raccoon.

Next morning, they found the warden's bloodhound. He was tied to a fence with the convict's suspenders.

VICTORIA IN EASY VICTORY OVER NANAIMO

Trounce Spencer's Braves 16 to 6 in Boxla Game—Bray Scores Seven

Making their first appearance of the season before the home-town fans, Victoria's senior boxla players last night trounced the visiting Spencer's Braves from Nanaimo, 16-6 in an exhibition game at the Royal Athletic Park. Locals took the lead in the first few minutes of the fast battle and were never headed all evening. Braves knotted the score at 1-1 early in the initial quarter, but goals by "Buzz" Brown and Doug Bray gave the Victoria boys a 3-1 advantage as the session ended.

The second period, where the teams matched goal for goal and scored three apiece, was the most evenly fought quarter of the game. In the third stanza Victoria fired home three markers without a return and literally ran their opponents off their feet in the final quarter, where they scored seven markers to the Braves' two.

BRAY GETS SEVEN

Doug Bray, young Owl Drug player, was the sparkplug of the Victoria attack and fired seven goals past Lorance, Nanaimo goalie. Playing his first senior game, Bray turned in a smart performance and time after time worked his way through the Braves' defence and scored right on top of the netminder.

Art Chapman sagged the hemp for three markers, while Len and "Chuck," his brothers, scored two apiece. "Buzz" Brown accounted for the other pair of Victoria markers.

Johnson and Don White each garnered a pair of goals for Nanaimo, while Doug White and Rice were the other scorers.

Smart goal-tending by "Red" Jury, in the Victoria net, kept the Braves from running up a bigger score in the earlier stages of the game, but in the final session they were practically out of the picture. Checked closely by the Victoria players, the Braves attempted a number of long, underhand shots which more often than not failed to hit the goal. The locals, by smart stickhandling and short-passing attacks, moved in close on the Up-Island goalie and gave him little chance with most of their shots.

Stan Ross and Ed Popham handled the game. The teams were:

Victoria—Jury, L. Chapman, C. Chapman, "Buzz" Brown, H. Price, J. Cumming, A. Chapman, R. Wallace, R. Clarke, W. Bousfield, D. Bray, H. Rowe and Loney.

Nanaimo—Lorance, Peter Good, LaPointe, Johnson, Don White, Doug White, Ride, Jones, Solzenberg, Seward, W. White, G. Good and H. White.

Back in First Place in English County Cricket—Verity Bowls Well

LONDON, Aug. 20 (CP).—Another overturn came today in the closest duel for first-class county cricket championship honors seen here in many seasons, when Yorkshire again displaced Middlesex from the head of the standing.

Winning their match with Glamorgan, Yorkshire went into the lead with an average of 71.20 points, compared with 70.79 for Middlesex, who won their match with Somerset yesterday.

Yorkshire pulled out a win from Glamorgan by 85 runs, thanks to the powerful arm of Hedley Verity, test cricket bowler, who took ten wickets in two innings today for 147 runs and gathered 15 points for a victory when it seemed the best the Yorkshiremen could do would be to win first innings.

Derbyshire defeated Sussex by nine wickets. Sussex, 219 and 311 (John Langridge 123; Mitchell, five for 87); Derbyshire, 485 for eight, declared, and 47 for one wicket, at Derby.

Farr's Injuries Are Only Slight Physician States

LONG BRANCH, N.J., Aug. 20 (AP).—An examination today of the cut under the right eye suffered by Tommy Farr in training yesterday satisfied Bill Brown, member of the New York State Athletic Commission, and Dr. William Walker, commission physician, that the injury was slight.

"We had been advised that the injury was not serious, but we wanted to see for ourselves," explained Brown. An examination by Dr. Walker revealed it wasn't serious and that the British champion probably will be able to resume boxing tomorrow in preparing for his August 26 title bout with Champion Joe Louis.

Farr confined his training today to six rounds of shadow boxing, bag punching, rope skipping and calisthenics.

Social Activities and Notes of Personal Interest

Miss Alma Hoare Bride Of Mr. B. Colin Tyrrell

Beautiful late Summer flowers in harmonizing tones were arranged in St. Mary's Church, last night, for the wedding of Alma, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hoare, 3255 Douglas Street, and Mr. Bernard Colin Tyrrell, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tyrrell, 151 Beach Drive, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock, Rev. H. St. John Payne officiating. Green cornucopias containing purple asters were attached to the chancel screen, and on either side of the steps stood tall white baskets filled with assorted blooms in brighter shades.

The pretty bride, who was given away by her father, entered the church to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin," played by the organist. She wore a simple frock of white ninon with a short bodice finished with a deep V-neck and short puff sleeves, and a very full skirt, with a short train extending from extra fullness at the back. Her veil of bridal net was worn beneath a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, white sweet peas and carnations, and Albatross gladioli.

THE ATTENDANTS

Miss Evelyn Driver, of Duncan, was a charming bridesmaid in a frock of pink organza tied with an Alice-blue sash, who wore a wide-brimmed pink hat, and carried an arm bouquet of blue delphiniums, pink gladioli and Enchantress carnations. The bridegroom's little niece, four-year-old Wendy Corbett, was a dainty flower girl in a Kate Greenaway frock of pale blue net tied with a pink satin sash, who wore a wreath of tiny pink flowers in her hair, and carried a pretty doll dressed in a similar costume to her own.

Mr. Robert Fawdry, of Cobble Hill, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. John Doyle, brother-in-law of the groom, and Mr. Norman Tyrrell, his brother.

RECEPTION AT EMPRESS

Mr. and Mrs. Hoare entertained about fifty guests later, in the Princess Charlotte dining-room at the Empress Hotel, in a charming floral setting, where the three-tiered bride's cake centred the supper table. Mrs. Hoare was dressed in a frock of brown georgette appliqued with silver leaves, and a beige straw hat trimmed with brown, and wore a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses and gerbera and Mrs. Tyrrell, Sr., was in a handsome frock of black lace adorned with a corsage bouquet of yellow roses and a large black velvet hat.

The bride and groom left at midnight for the Mainland, en route to Alta Lake, where the honeymoon will be spent; and on their return they will make their home on Beach Drive. For traveling, the bride chose a black and white ensemble with black accessories, brightened with a corsage bouquet of red roses and gardenias.

Guests at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. F. Hubbick, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jelliman and Miss R. Freeman, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. T. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. A. Stefens, Crescent Beach; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fawdry, Cobble Hill; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Driver, Duncan; Mr. and Mrs. L. Gibbons, Sidney; Mr. J. D. Boyd and Miss M. Stevens, Cowichan Lake.

How It Started

By Jean Newton

WHY IT IS CALLED "CHRISTIAN" NAME

Patrick, Israel, Woo—strange to say, they are equally Christian names.

Christian, Hebrew, or follower of Confucius, all have a Christian name—Christian, in this sense, being, of course, synonymous with "first," "given" or "baptismal" as distinguished from "last," "family" or surname."

The surname is a survival of the old tribal, caste or vocational designation.

Soon after the advent of Christianity there was initiated the custom of conferring an additional or first name upon every infant.

This usually took the form of a ceremony at baptism, the new name being known as the "Christian" name—a term which has stuck through the ages without regard to baptism or religious affiliation.

First Co-ed: "The cheek of that conductor. He glared at me as if I hadn't paid my fare."

Second Co-ed: "And what did you do?"

First Co-ed: "I glared right back as if I had."

Mistress (having heard crash in the kitchen): "Did you break anything, Jane?"

Maid: "I did an' all, mum. Me New Year's resolution against swearin' an' your best china teapot!"

OREGON OFFICIAL WRITES TO MAYOR

Clyde, commissioner of public utilities at Portland, Oregon, the commissioner offered to assist the mayor in any way possible in dealing with transportation matters here. Mr. Clyde also thanked the mayor for his hospitality when he visited the city last month with Mrs. Clyde on a tour of the Island.

Mr. Clyde enclosed a copy of a column known as "City Hall Topics" appearing in eight Oregon newspapers in which a brief outline of municipal administration here was given. Mr. Clyde followed the profession of journalism early in his career, and is a prolific writer on Oregon city matters.

Novel Decoration

Miss Edith White, a September bride-to-be, was complimented last night when Mrs. C. M. Parrott entertained at a surprise miscellaneous shower at her home on Fifth Street. The reception rooms were gay with lovely yellow gladioli and button chrysanthemums. The many pretty gifts were concealed in the fireplace, which had been decorated in a novel manner with pale yellow and pale green crepe paper to resemble a huge basket, tied at the sides with bows. Games were much enjoyed during the evening, after which a buffet supper was served, with Mrs. S. Noel and Mrs. W. White presiding. An Irish lace cloth covered the supper table which had as its centrepiece a miniature bridal group composed of bride, groom and bridesmaid, standing on a mirror and surrounded by filmy pale pink tulle. This charming arrangement was completed by pale pink carnations and maidenhair fern in silver vases and lighted by matching tapers in silver sconces. The guests were Mrs. J. M. Newcomb, Mrs. S. Noel, Mrs. G. H. Pottinger, Mrs. Norman McSween, Mrs. Frank Noel, Mrs. Ernest Gough, Mrs. W. R. Yule, Mrs. W. White and Misses Gertrude Rendle, Kathleen Noel (Vancouver), Floss Pike, Jean Newcomb and Muriel Parrott.

Royal Mounted to Stick to Horses

HALIFAX, Aug. 20 (CP)—The time may never come when Canada's red-coated Mounted Police are pictured astride a motor-bike instead of the traditional silky steed.

Horses are most valuable in many phases of the work of Royal Canadian Mounted Police and probably never will be done away with entirely, says Commissioner Sir James H. MacBrien, who is visiting here.

A colored woman who was rather fleshy asked her mistress for a dainty white silk dress (which had been discarded) to wear to a big wedding.

"Why, Mandy, you couldn't wear that dress I am sure, for it is small and you are very heavy."

The servant started to turn away dejectedly, but brightened suddenly and looked hopefully at her mistress with the plea: "Yassum, Missy Car'line, Ah knows de dress is small an' Ah's awful fleshy. But Ah gives!"

Girl (coolly)—Oh; I've given that fellow up now!

Her mistress expressed her regret; just two days after, she saw her maid out with the same young man. Later, when the maid returned, she said in tones of genuine surprise:

Mistress—Mary, I thought you told me you had given up that young man?

Girl (airily)—That's right, madam. I have. But you see what it is! I have to give him a week's notice.

Is President Of College At Pullman

Among the Summer visitors here is Dr. Ernest O. Holland, president of the Washington State College at Pullman, Washington, who, with his sister, Mrs. Glen Gifford, of Washington, D.C., is staying at the Empress Hotel for a few weeks.

Dr. Holland, who has visited Victoria during the Summer holidays in previous years, has high scholastic and administrative attainments, and is a member of the Washington State Board of Education, the Advisory Board of the Reconstruction Educational Alliance, and various national and state organizations. He was appointed a member of the committee of selection for the Rhodes Scholarship Trust in 1927, and since 1928 has been an elector of the Hall of Fame.

Before his appointment to the presidency of the college at Pullman in 1916, he had wide experience as a teacher and in administrative work in connection with education, and gave the benefit of this experience to his collaborator in the well-known publication "College and University Administration." He is also author of two or three valuable text-books.

Jane Dixon Says:

WORRIED YOUNG MAN WANTS TO KNOW WHICH WOMAN TO CHOOSE—REALLY IN LOVE WITH ONE BUT LACKS MASCULINE QUALITY OF MAKING DECISION

When a young man writes to this column asking for advice and the writer knows what the young man needs is a new spine, she feels pretty helpless.

A wavering blow-hot, blow-cold woman is bad enough, but a man who can't make up his mind what he wants, who lacks the masculine quality of decision, is a sorry spectacle.

A man knows when he is in love, if he is a real man, and he makes no compromise in his suit for the object of his heart's desire.

Dear Miss Dixon: I went steadily with a girl for several years. Then she wrote me a letter and told me she did not care seriously for me. I hoped she would be my wife, but whenever I spoke of marriage she turned the subject to having a good time, going places, dancing. I don't care for dancing so I never took her places where it was going on.

I thought she was the only girl in the world for me, but some time after she dismissed me I found there could be another. I met a young divorced woman who has a very little child and was attracted to her at once as she seemed to be to me. She is very likable and popular. We were getting on fine when a letter came from the other girl in which she asked me to come to her. She said that soon after she had written me the letter calling everything off, she realized she had made a terrible mistake, that I meant everything on earth to her and that if we could turn back the pages to where we left off she would never stray again.

What shall I do? I care deeply for the young widow and she loves me. It's love for both of us, no doubt about that. I don't know why I feel embarrassed about taking her places, wondering what people will say about me going with a widow. But when we're together I forget all that, we're so happy and so congenial.

My parents heartily approve of the widow. In fact they like her better than any girl I've ever gone with, and they would gladly welcome her as a daughter. She is first in my life but at times I find myself longing for the other girl. Could it be that I love both?

How can I be sure the other girl means what she says? She changed her mind once before.

I am a few years older than both these women.

Which is the right one for me?—So Worried.

Answer: I hope you will not think I am too brusque but this column is pledged to the truth no matter how hard it hits so here it is: You are no bargain for either woman until you develop more strength of decision which means more strength of character.

Why should you feel embarrassed to be in the company of a woman you love and who loves you and who has all the qualities a regular man seeks in a wife? The unhappy experience she suffered in her heart should make you more tender toward her.

A man worth loving or being loved by, wears his devotion proudly on his breast like a bright star. He is not disconcerted by stupid wagging tongues or silly sly glances.

If you loved the first girl so much and she liked dancing why didn't you forget your own preference once in a while, learn to dance and go dancing with her? Don't you know that selfish love always comes to a bad end? Maybe she still likes dancing and will take a notion to trip the light fantastic again once you are pledged to her. Then what will you do? There is no way in which you can insure yourself against her changing her mind a second time or any number of times.

I agree with your parents. The young widow would be my choice. But love her like a man, not like a weak sister.

CHAPTER XIV

Polly laughed, softly. They were in a world apart, a world suddenly, subtly created and sustained by this nonsense. "It must be wonderful to be so wise," she chided. "And you've learned all you know from your own personal scientific research?"

"That's right," he said with complete gravity. "And I'll tell you something else: I can look at a girl and tell you at a glance whether she's a blender or a non-blender. Now, the instant I saw you soaring through the air between the wharf and the ferry yesterday afternoon, I said——"

"You said," Polly supplied, 'Now there's a natural-born blender. That girl would absorb moonlight without half trying because she has never been kissed in the moon-moonlight.'"

"Oh, yeah?"

Their mingled laughter floated out through the night.

Jerry said, "Relaxed?"

Polly breathed sigh. "Completely, lieutenant——"

"That's the wrong kind of comedy."

"Jerry," she said, her face turned to his.

"Beautiful. How do you make your voice do that?"

She said, not really thinking at all, "Jerry—and Polly."

"Jerry—and Polly," he said after her.

"Sounds sort of sugarish, doesn't—the 'Polly,' I mean."

"It sounds so exactly right for you that I can't understand why they tried to call you Pauline."

Polly smiled. "There's no need to lay it on any longer, Jerry. I'm relaxed, and I've forgotten for minutes at a time that not very far away a coroner and a flock of policemen are waiting to tear me apart. You can be honest and sensible now if you like."

He leaned over and knocked out his pipe on the handle of the door. "I'll be both," he said. "Do you know why I kissed you?"

She looked at him steadily—said at last, "Yes, I know. Because I gave a convincing performance of a cheap little nitwit who takes it for granted that when a young man drives her down to the beach, he isn't doing it to engage in a scientific discussion of lunar attraction and the tides." After a pause, she said, "I practically asked you to kiss me. I said, 'I didn't know there was anyone in the world like you,' and I meant it—but not the way you thought."

"You meant I had just pulled you out of the stew, and you were grateful and wanted me to know you were grateful. I didn't understand." His fingers moved over the curve of her shoulder and closed on her arm. "I kissed you because I wanted to make you angry, Polly. Being angry, you couldn't go on thinking about Fordell and the coroner and the police."

"And all you succeeded in doing was making me like it," Polly said. "Were you horribly disappointed, Jerry?" She watched his shadowy face hovering above her own, and presently she lifted a hand and touched his cheek with light, caressing fingers. "You've been good, Jerry," she said softly, "letting me behave like a little girl. But a man has been murdered, my dear, and the house of Norris Fordell is full of the law an all its impressive names and uniforms and——"

"And——" said Jerry, "there's a war going on somewhere and thousands are starving in China, and I never saw you before yesterday and I want to kiss you again, Polly, and this time not to make you angry, nor to get your mind off other things, but because——"

"Jerry!" It was a startled, earnest cry.

"I know," he said. "I must not say it. It isn't true and it isn't possible. It doesn't happen like that. I'm giving you a line. Love at first sight is just hooey. When a man kisses a girl the first time he has an opportunity, he's just that kind of lug . . . All right, have it your way. But I'm telling you and not for the last time, Polly Markey . . ." He told her without words, with lips that were soft and warm and profoundly sweet against her own, and after a little Polly's arms crept over his shoulders and around his neck.

USED CEMENT FOR LAWN FERTILIZER

GEORGETOWN, Ga., Aug. 20 (AP).—Joe Gary's negro farmhand isn't doing much digging in the garden these days. He recently mixed what he thought was a sack of fertilizer with the soil.

The sack was full of cement.

And then it rained.

The result is practically a sidewalk.

Cohen appeared among his friends one morning wearing a magnificent diamond pin. His associates were impressed and one asked him:

Associate—I say, Cohen, where did you get that diamond?

Cohen—You remember, Levy?

Associate—Yes, but he didn't leave you any money, did he?

Cohen—No, he didn't. But I'm his executor, and he left $500 for a memorial stone. This is it.

You can get along without luxuries—BUT—

You cannot get along without a fleece fabric or camel hair coat . . . You'll need it for travel, business or for college. Colors are deeper . . . and textures more luxurious . . . from $24.50

What Today Means

"LEO"

If August 21 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m., from 2:45 to 4:45 p.m. and from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:45 to 10:45 a.m. from 5:45 to 7:45 p.m. and from 9:45 to 11:45 p.m.

The average person may be in a jocular mood this day, so be sure you do not confuse facetiousness with seriousness. In your social contacts it might be good judgment to keep your conversation free from depressing remarks. Depth of affection will be difficult to suppress this day, which perhaps will account for someone near and dear to you being unusually demonstrative. Aloofness will act as a wet blanket on good spirits and social activities, so avoid assuming this attitude if you wish to enjoy the day. What might appear to be a feast to the eyes is liable to be an abomination to your stomach, so be careful to dine wisely and not too well. Gluttony is one of this day's evils that must be suppressed. The digestive tract is likely to suffer from any abuse it is subjected to. Married and engaged couples, as well as those considering a matrimonial possibility, must try to appreciate suggestions made for their entertainment.

If a woman and August 21 is your birthday, you may be rather impetuous, especially in matters involving the heart. You are inclined to want your own way in your home, and may try to regulate the conduct of others outside of it. To succeed and be popular, overcome this trait. You can, with little effort, win many friends and become socially prominent. If you cultivate the habit of being an optimist your chances for success in any field of endeavor seem to be excellent. As a teacher, secretary, interior decorator, artist, writer, business executive or broker your income is likely to be large. If you rule your husband and home with a gentle hand, your married life ought to be a happy one.

The child born on August 21, during its preparatory school days must not be indulged in having likes or dislikes, particularly if they involve school rules and discipline. It is most important that this youngster learns what the word obedience means, for any lack of it may handicap its future chances to succeed.

If a man, and August 21 is your natal day, you probably are generous, mentally well equipped, ambitious, and a shrewd trader. As a politician, lawyer, doctor, inventor, journalist, salesman or publisher you ought to be a money-maker.

Fond Mother—Well, son, what have you been doing all afternoon?

Tough Youngster—Shooting craps

Fond Mother—That must stop. Those little things have as much right to live as you have.

PROVIDES FOR TANK BUT NO WATER NOW

TRAIL, B.C., Aug. 20 (CP). — Trail City Council laid aside $2,000 for a new water tank and equipment a few weeks ago. The tank was scheduled to be installed by the end of last month.

At its last meeting the council sheepishly told W. B. Cass the water supply had since dried up.

The money can be used only for waterworks development. The council is now looking for more water.

COLLECTS MORE TAXES

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20 (CP). — City Comptroller Frank Jones told the city council today collections on current taxes to August 15 were nearly $1,000,000 higher than at the same date last year. Operation of the Tax Consolidation Act, however, reduced collections of arrears by $600,000. Net increase in collections was thus $400,000.

Cincinnati Pitcher Bats in Five Runs as He Hurls Team to Fine Win Over League Leaders—Giants Hit Heavy in Trimming Phils—Cards Go Under—Yanks Widen Lead

NATIONAL LEAGUE

CINCINNATI, Aug. 20 (AP).—Paul Derringer, big Cincinnati Red hurler, batted in five runs on three hits tonight, and allowed nine hits in eight innings to lead the Reds to a 6-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs. It was the Reds' fourth consecutive win over the Cubs.

Wins Twelfth Victory

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 20 (AP).—Cy Blanton won his twelfth game today as Pittsburgh rallied behind his six-hit pitching to defeat St. Louis, 7-4, and moved to within one-half game of third place in the National League.

Johnny Mize hit his seventeenth homer of the season in the first inning, with Terry Moore on base, and Joe Medwick made his twenty-seventh circuit smash in the third with Brown on base. Medwick later was ejected by Umpire Ballanfant for his objections to a third strike.

Fires Heavy Artillery

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 20 (AP).—New York Giants delivered their heaviest dose of pitchers' poison to the faltering Phillies today, and clubbed out a 13-6 victory.

They collected twenty-one hits for their biggest hitting and run-making production of the season, and remained right on the heels of Chicago Cubs in the National League fight.

Dick Bartell, shortstop sparkplug of the infield, was sidelined with an ailing ankle only a few days after his return from the hospital list.

In the sixth, Pitcher Dick Coffman collided with the Phils' Herschel Martin in a play at first base, and was spiked so badly on the right foot he had to be carried to the clubhouse.

Bees Defeat Dodgers

BROOKLYN, Aug. 20 (AP). — Boston Bees made every hit count today and nosed out the Dodgers, 6-5 behind the effective pitching of Danny Macfayden.

Al Lopez, Bees' catcher, only recently back from the hospital list, was sidelined again when a foul tip hit a finger on his right hand.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP) — Bill Dickey walloped his twenty-fifth homer of the year with one out in the tenth inning and the score tied to give the Yankees an 8-7 decision over the Philadelphia Athletics and run their current winning streak to five straight.

It was the Yanks' only homer of the day, but it was enough to give them their second extra-inning decision in as many days.

The victim of Dickey's game-wrecking clout was Lynn Nelson, who had relieved Buck Ross in the seventh. For a while, it looked as if Nelson might be returned the hero, for his pinch-homer in the seventh, with a male on base, featured a four-run Athletic rally, which was followed by a three-run splurge in the ninth to tie the score.

Ivy Paul Andrews, making his first start for the Yanks since he was obtained from Cleveland, breezed along until the seventh when he blew up on Nelson's homer.

Owens was taken to his hotel, where his condition tonight was improved.

Three Vancouver And Local Player On B.C. Golf Team

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20 (C)—The British Columbia branch of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union has nominated three Vancouver shotmakers and one from Victoria as the West Coast team at the inter-provincial team matches in Winnipeg next month.

Winnifred Evans, Kay Farrell and Mrs. Robert Renwick, of Vancouver, and Mrs. E. Jackson, of Victoria, will make the trip for the team play, later competing in the open and closed championships.

Tony Lazzeri Caught Off Third Base

To be caught napping on the ball diamond is a serious offence as Tony Lazzeri, New York Yankee's hard-hitting second baseman, found out when he tried vainly to get back to third base. His efforts were to no avail as Higgins, Boston third sacker, waited for him with the ball. The Bees defeated Yankees, 16-10, so maybe Tony's efforts were justified, as he undoubtedly was trying to score another run for his team and assist in turning defeat into victory.

SWEEP TWO SINGLES AND DOUBLES MATCH FROM ENGLISH TEAM

Alice Marble Defeats Ruth Hardwick and Helen Jacobs Gains Three-Set Win Over Kay Stammers—Evelyn Dearman and Joan Ingram Lose in Doubles—Need One More Win

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Aug. 20 (AP).—Three of the four players designated to defend the Wightman Cup, women's international tennis trophy, provided the United States with a well-nigh insurmountable 3-0 lead over Great Britain today at the West Side Tennis Club.

The United States women were left needing only one victory in tomorrow's concluding set of four matches to attain their seventh consecutive triumph and eleventh in the series of fifteen encounters.

Alice Marble, national champion and No. 1 player on the defending side; powerful, sound-stroke Helen Jacobs, playing in her eleventh cup match, and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan combined for the complete route of the invaders.

Miss Marble, opening the programme before a gathering of little more than 1,000 spectators, dropped the first set, but rallied to defeat Ruth Mary Hardwick, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, and later returned to the court to team with Mrs. Fabyan in a 6-2, 6-3 conquest of Great Britain's Evelyn Dearman and Joan Ingram.

HELEN JACOBS WINS

In between, her fellow-Californian, Miss Jacobs, swept to a 6-1, 4-6, 6-4 victory over Kay Stammers, No. 1 star of the visiting forces.

Though off her game against Miss Stammers and no longer the player she was two years ago, Miss Jacobs is likely to clinch the trophy in tomorrow's first match, in which she will meet Miss Hardwick.

Miss Marble tomorrow will follow Miss Jacobs on to the court for a singles match with Miss Stammers. Then the No. 3 singles players, Mrs. Fabyan and Margot Lumb, will settle their differences, with Miss Jacobs and Mrs. Marjorie Van Ryn, fourth and last member of the United States team, pairing in the concluding doubles match against Miss Stammers and Freda James.

AUTO RACES AT LANGFORD

Second International Meet Will Be Held Tonight at Suburban Track

Joe Campbell, of Seattle, with an Eckerts Special, rated as one of the fastest cars in the Northwest, will be here today and is expected to make a great bid for majors at the international auto racing meet this evening at the Langford Speedway, commencing at 8:30. Campbell should give Earl Setterman, another Sound city driver, who cleaned up all the big events at the last meet, stiff competition throughout the programme.

Great interest should hold the spotlight in the one-and-a-half-litre event for stock cars, which was won by Louis Michelin last time. Michelin will be out to make it two straight against the following local racers: Bruce Low, Jeff Reynolds, Lieut. Woolsey and Hugh Aylmer. The winner of this event will take possession of the Thomas Plimley Company, Limited, Cup, and will receive a miniature which he will keep in his possession. J. E. Eve won the trophy twice in 1934, the first time at Nanaimo over a half mile track, and later over the mile distance at Colwood. Then Michelin took the silverware over two miles at Langford.

Humpbacks Will Take Fishing Fly If Handled Right

It was once said that Pacific Coast salmon would not take a fly. But fishermen proved that they would. Today, fly fishing for cohoe is almost as popular as fishing with a lure.

Still, sporting salmon on the Pacific Coast only meant springs, cohoes and sockeye. Now news comes from the other side of Puget Sound that humpbacks will also take a lure, so long as it is the right kind, and properly handled.

According to a report issued by a Seattle firm and recently received by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, trolling for "humpies" is slightly different than for other salmon. Very small one and one-half inch or two-inch spoons, or candlefish (eulachans), are the best bait.

A greater speed in trolling or in stripping must be used, rather than the slow type of troll. Very little lead is necessary, and plentiful action may be obtained by sighting schools of humpbacks and fishing amongst them.

The best way to regulate the spoons for proper action, the report indicates, is to place large Siwash hooks on the line and thus get the proper wobble.

It is declared that limit catches are being taken in Puget Sound.

Marylebone Cricket Eleven Scores Easy Win Over the Colts

Touring English Team Trims Vancouver Side by Eight Wickets—Seller Scores 70, Wykes 52 and Newman 44 for Visitors

By H. H. GORDON
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20.—The touring Marylebone Cricket Club team ran its string of victories in Canada to ten today, defeating Vancouver Colts by eight wickets at Brockton Park. Fifteen Vancouver youngsters faced the Englishmen and compiled 162 runs, the visitors passing the total with only two wickets down, finishing with a score of 195 for seven wickets.

Another slashing innings by K. A. Sellar, the former international Rugby star, featured the contest. Going in at the fall of the second wicket, he drove and pulled with terrific power and in thirty-five minutes hit up 70 runs. His score included two 6's and ten 4's. Against a British Columbia Mainland league team on Tuesday he made 92 not out.

SCORES HEAVILY

Sellar and Nigel Wykes put on 97 runs for the third wicket when the former was caught by E. Smyth off Norman Pearson in attempting a big hit. He gave two chances during his stay at the wickets. Wykes, who went in at the opening of the innings was clean bowled by Basil Robinson a few minutes after Sellar's departure. The tall Essex batsman played well for 52, being more forceful than usual. His strokes included eight 4's.

Topping his score of 35 made against Cowichan yesterday, G. C. Newman, English skipper, hit vigorously for 44, sending the ball to the boundary seven times.

DELEGATES SEND KIND GREETINGS

Oxford Conference Expresses Sympathy With German Evangelical Church in Afflictions

One of the most intense moments at the Oxford Conference on Church, Community and State is said to have been when the Bishop of Chichester rose to propose sending a message from the Conference of the German Evangelical Church.

He urged that those outside Germany should not forget the efforts made in Germany itself for the reshaping of her life, and that they should do everything to encourage the return of Germany into the full enjoyment of the spiritual and material life in the world of nations.

The resolution expressed sympathy in "the afflictions of many pastors and laymen", notes the gravity of the struggle "against distortion and suppression of the Christian witness and for the training of the young in a living faith in Jesus."

THREE GERMAN DELEGATES

The absence of the delegates of the German Evangelical Church was deeply regretted, but there were three representatives of the Federation of Evangelical Free Churches. On the platform of the Conference the Methodist Bishop Melle testified to the gratitude of the free churches of Germany for the "full liberty" they enjoyed, and that they were grateful that "God in His providence had sent a leader" who was able to "banish Bolshevism in Germany and to rescue a nation from the abyss of despair to which it had been led by the World War and the Treaty of Versailles, and to give this nation a new faith in its mission and its future." This speech was received in silence.

ATTITUDE TOWARD CHURCH QUERIED

Recent Events in Germany Held to Indicate Possible Change in Hitler's Policy

There have been several quick and rather spectacular developments in the German church conflict during the last fortnight, although it is too early to venture anything better than a guess as to their significance, writes the editor of The Christian Century, of Chicago.

First came the unlooked-for vindication of Dr. Friedrich Dibellius, who had been under arrest upon the charge of having misrepresented Church Minister Kerrl, in a letter sent in February to Hitler and other members of the Government. The trial, according to New York Times, "did honor to German justice . . . The court was both diligent and impartial in searching for the truth." Dr. Dibellius' acquittal means a humiliating defeat for the Church Minister.

The second event, according to The Chicago Journal, was equally noteworthy. It was the parade through the streets of Dahlem by several members of Martin Niemoller's church, protesting against the government's prohibition of prayer meetings for arrested Confessional pastors. This is apparently the first mass demonstration against an act of the government since Hitler came to power. One hundred and fifteen participants were arrested and later released.

This impressive exhibition of opposition to the state's religious policy was followed next day by the postponement of the trial of Niemoller, which had been scheduled for August 10. The journal mentioned queries whether Hitler is wondering whether a more conciliatory attitude on the part of the government may not be advisable.

THEOSOPHY

"The Law of Compensation" will be the topic at the weekly public meeting of the Theosophical Society on Tuesday at 8 p.m., in the Theosophical Hall, Jones Building, Fort Street. The speakers will deal with the subject from the standpoint of sowing and reaping.

Speaking at Wolverhampton, Eng., recently, Rt. Hon. Ernest Brown, Minister of Labor in the British Cabinet, said that Dr. Frank Buchman and members of the Oxford Group are rendering the nations the greatest possible service that any man or movement can give to the world at this critical time. They are, he said, insisting upon the necessity for listening in to God to find His plan for ourselves and the world.

In the principal Mohammedan mosque in Malaya, the Masjid Sultan Mosque in Singapore, the muezzin uses a microphone by means of which the call to prayer can be heard a mile away, and loud speakers are installed in the mosque itself.

CASES OF GRAVE'S DISEASE—EXOPTHALMIC GOITRE—MAY NOT HAVE ENLARGED GLAND OR BULGING EYEBALLS

In the examination for overseas service, if we came across a recruit with a rapid heart-beat, it was customary to make him jog or do a stationary run of fifty steps to see to what extent the exercise increased the heart rate. He then rested for one to two minutes, and if the heart rate slowed down to its former rate or lower, it was felt that it was a sound heart. When the heart was very fast we were suspicious of exopthalmic goitre.

Many recruits were naturally nervous, and due allowance was made for this; but in some cases where the heart rate was persistently high, two simple tests for exopthalmic goitre (Grave's disease) were made. The first was having the recruit hold his hands up in line with his shoulders. If the hands trembled or shook, it was another sign of Grave's disease. The other was to have him follow an object with his eyes without moving his head. If the eyelids came down and up as the object was lowered and raised (not being obstructed by a "bulging" eyeball) it was felt that no Grave's disease was present. And if there was no enlargement of the thyroid gland it was further evidence that Grave's disease was not present.

We now know that Grave's disease can be present without the bulging eyeballs, the tremor of the hands, or the enlargement of the thyroid gland.

Dr. Israel Bram, Philadelphia, in his book "Exopthalmic Goitre and Its Medical Treatment," with 16,000 cases of Grave's disease under revision, 5,000 of which were under his personal observation during a period of twenty-five years, says:

"In our large series of cases there was no thyroid enlargement that could be felt in about 18 per cent, and in 22 per cent no exopthalmos (bulging eyes) existed. In 11 per cent neither the bulging eyes nor the enlarged thyroid gland existed. This means that in one of every five cases there was either no goitre or exopthalmos (bulging eyes), and in one of every ten cases there was neither enlarged thyroid nor bulging eyeballs."

This means, then, that when the heart rate is persistently fast, even if there is no enlargement of the thyroid gland and no bulging of the eyeballs, the physician would still be justified in expecting exopthalmic goitre and making the metabolism test (rate at which body processes work).

"With all your traveling about the world, I expect you're a bit of a linguist?"

"I should just think I am, sir. Why, I can say 'I don't mind if I do' in fifteen different languages."

Would Curb Cost Of Getting Votes

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20 (CP).—Alderman John Bennett today gave notice to Vancouver City Council he would place before it a resolution limiting campaign expenditures of Vancouver mayoralty candidates to $2,000, and those of aldermanic candidates to $300.

Scientists believe that the world has fifty million more years ahead of it. This must be encouraging to people who are buying things on the installment plan.

JUNIOR SALMON DERBY PLANNED

Victoria Boys and Girls to Be Guests of Port Angeles September 12

Details regarding the Junior Salmon Derby to take place in Port Angeles, September 12, have been received by T. E. Watkins, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, from A. E. Hennessy, chairman of the competition committee.

All arrangements have been made to accommodate the local group in comfort. Housing, meals, transportation, boats, prizes and refreshments will be provided by the committee in charge.

"There will be no charge whatever from the time they arrive in Port Angeles, until the time they leaves," writes Mr. Hennessy.

All the visitors must do is to provide their own fishing tackle, and transportation to Port Angeles.

Fishing will commence at 6 o'clock in the morning. Boys and girls will be divided into two groups. One will fish from 6 to 9 a.m. and the other from 9 to 12 noon.

Registration cards, to be signed by parents of intending competitors, may be obtained from the offices of the Chamber of Commerce, Arcade Building, and should be forwarded to Mr Hennessy direct. Victoria youngsters making the trip are expected to arrive September 11.

Only those children between the ages of ten and fifteen years may make the trip.

Premier Explains How Municipalities May Reach Fiscal Commission

It has been made clear in a statement by Premier Pattullo that the avenue of approach with regard to fiscal matters to the Royal Commission which will investigate the relations between the Dominion and the Western provinces will have to be through the provincial Government.

The Premier's announcement follows a suggestion that the mayor of Vancouver and the acting mayor of Victoria had sought to present the views of the two leading cities independently. It is as follows.

PREMIER'S POSITION

"With reference to reported statements of Mayor Miller, of Vancouver, and Acting Mayor Adam, of Victoria, that they desire to present their own case to the Royal Commission which has been recently appointed, I do not think that the suggestions of Mr. Hart to the municipalities have been quite understood.

"While I have not seen the terms of the commission, I may say that when consenting to the general commission instead of a special commission for British Columbia, I stressed the necessity of the widest possible reference, with opportunity for the municipalities to make known their position. To this the Dominion Government consented.

THROUGH PROVINCE

"Vancouver and Victoria, and the municipalities generally, will have opportunity to make known their situation to the fullest extent. This will necessarily require to be done through the Province, but without hampering their representations. Our government very much appreciates the position of the municipalities, and wishes to be helpful. It seems very much to the welfare of the municipalities and the Province generally that there should be the closest co-operation and collaboration."

JUDGES NAMED FOR FALL FAIR

Photographic and Art Depts. Offer Wide Scope for Competitive Entries

Hester Wilkinson, Ed. Savannah and Wilfred Gibson have been appointed judges of the photographic division of the Fall Fair, while Mrs. H. B. Clark has been appointed judge of the art section, it was announced by W. H. Mearns, secretary of the B.C. Agricultural Association, yesterday.

Owing to the growing interest in photographic work during the past few years, it has been found necessary to appoint three judges for this section.

All pictures must be of British Columbia subjects, and must not have been exhibited before, Mr. Mearns stated. This ensures an entirely new exhibit each year. More than $100 in prizes have been put up for competition in this class.

The art department covers not only oil and water color pictures for both professional and amateur contestants, but also embraces drawings, wood carving, fretwork, inlay, tooled leather, models and other works of art. A total of nearly $250 has been set aside for prizes in this class, Mr. Mearns stated.

A special division has been provided for girls' and boys' work in the art department, and this class likewise covers all branches of art. Prizes offered in this section amount to $140.

Reclaimed Area in Kootenays Yields Half-Million Dollars In Wheat This Year

There will be a sum approximating $500,000 released in the interior of the province as a result of the wheat crop produced on the Creston reclamation lands this year, according to the Provincial Department of Agriculture. From the 14,000 acres of reclaimed land in that area an average of thirty-five bushels an acre will be harvested.

With the present prices of wheat the returns will be in the vicinity of $500,000 this year.

All through the province including the Peace River, the yield of grain is large.
